

Farm Picture Quiz Begins Next Thursday

Happen to see a plane flying low over your farm on Saturday? If you did, chances are that it was taking an aerial photograph of your farm buildings for the "Lucky Farm Photo Quiz" which begins next week in the Era and Express.

Over a period of 26 weeks, 26 lucky farm owners who identify air photographs of their farms are going to receive framed photographs and a total of $37 in one-dollar gift certificates from each of the 37 merchants in Newmarket, Aurora and district who are sponsoring the Lucky Photo Quiz in the Era and Express.

The air pictures have been taken over the area covered by the Era and Express. Only the pilot of the plane and his photographer know where the pictures were taken but they were spotted about an area from King City north to Sutton, and from Mt. Albert west to Schomberg.

Here's how the Lucky Farm Photo Quiz works. Each week, a picture of a farm will be reproduced in the Era and Express. When the owner of the farm identifies it at the Era and Express office, he will receive a handsomely framed enlarged copy of the photograph, and 37 gift certificates, each worth $1, one from each of the participating merchants.

We will want a brief history of the farm and pictures of the lucky winner — and that's all. There are no strings attached to the quiz. The lucky farmers don't have to buy anything, do anything or say anything except to tell us something about their farm and to cash the lucky gift certificates at the stores of the merchants supporting the quiz.

The Lucky Farm Photo Quiz has been made possible by the generous co-operation of the merchants. They include merchants of Newmarket and Aurora and in the district about these two towns.

This is a project which, we are sure, will interest the farmers and other rural readers who pride themselves on being able to identify almost any farm in the district. If experience of other papers who are running similar features is any indication, as the contest continues, the whole community will be helping in the identification of the lucky farms.

MANY AT HOSPITAL FOR OPEN HOUSE

York County Hospital opened its doors on Thursday, May 22, for public inspection when the third annual "Open House" was held. Receiving the visitors at the hospital was the superintendent of nurses, Miss L. Thomas, president of the Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. Rusty Rogers, and Aurora representative, Mrs. Crawford Rose.

Mrs. Ivan Specht, King representative, welcomed guests at the nurses' residence where tea was served by the Hospital Auxiliary under the convener-ship of Mrs. John Dales. The Bradford branch of York County Hospital Women's Auxiliary provided the refreshments.

Auxiliary members assisted the hospital's nursing staff in conducting tours of the buildings. On exhibition was equipment purchased for the hospital through the auxiliary and the newly re-decorated and furnished nurses' sitting room in the residence.

Well Known Newmarket Figure Harvey McCordick Dies Suddenly

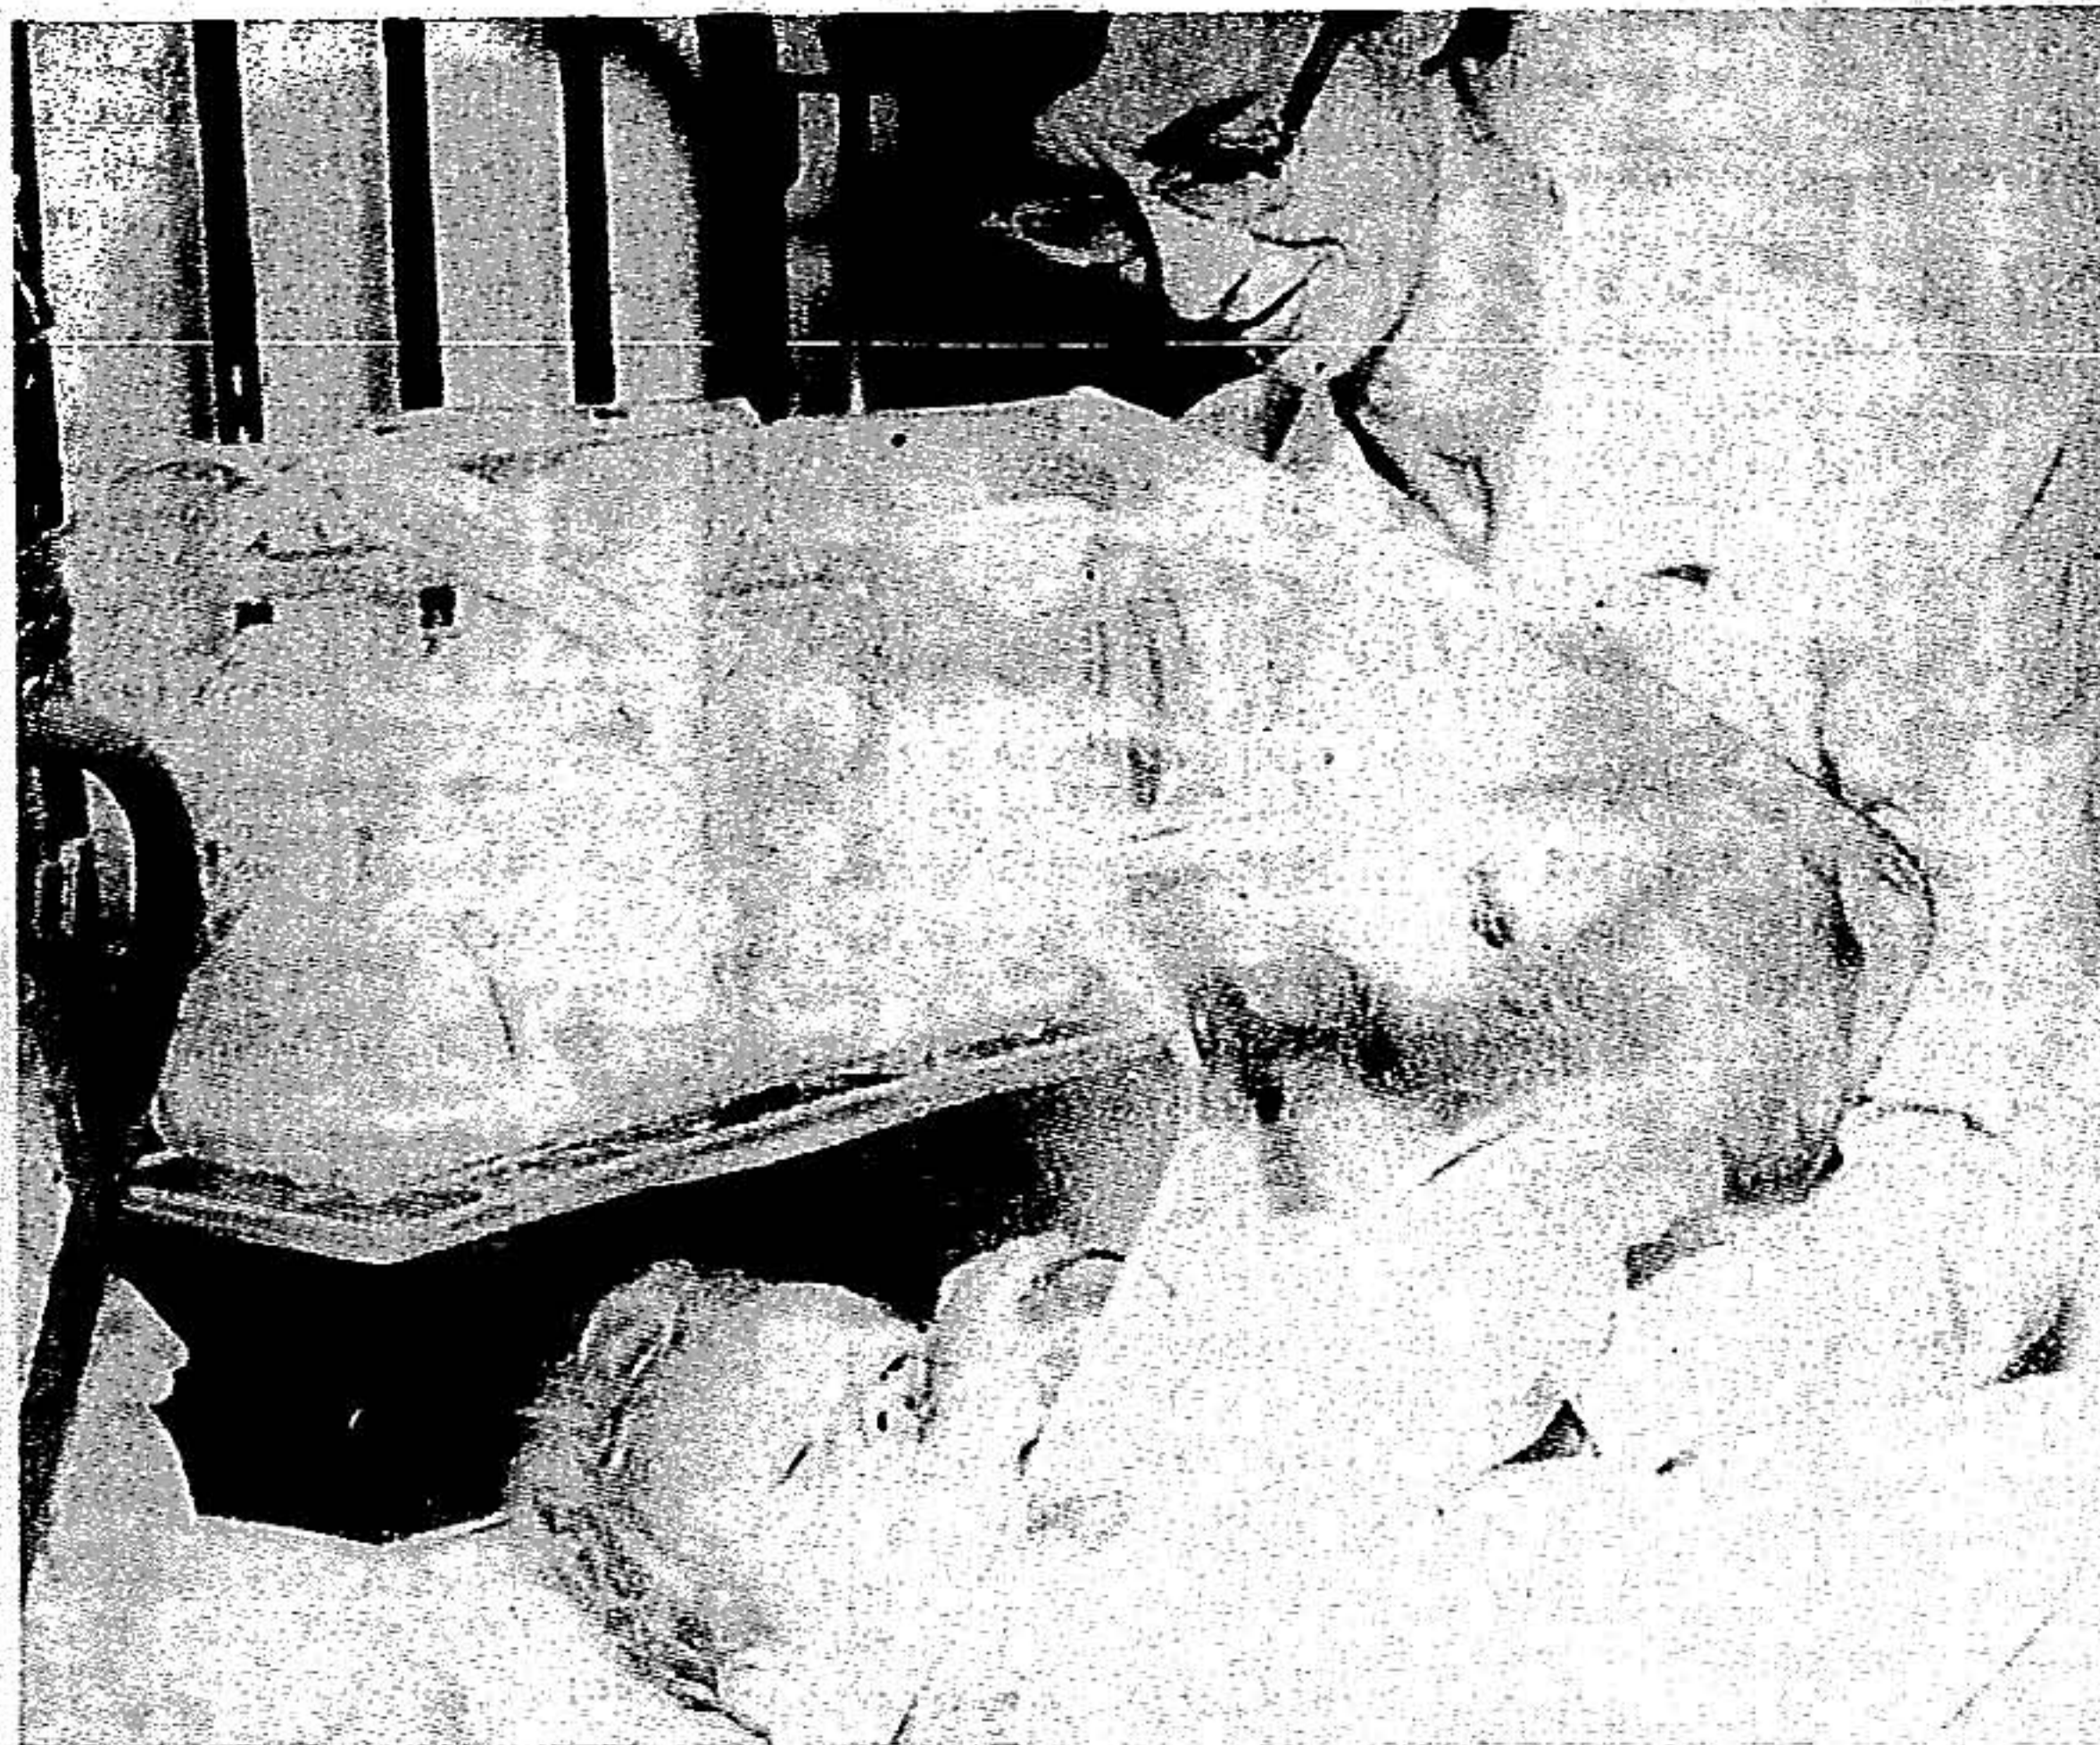

The death took place at his home, 37 Gorham St., suddenly Monday, last week, of Harvey Clinton McCordick, born May 5, 1885, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCordick.

His mother, Helen Thompson, came from Clinton, Ont., and taught school at Roche's Point a few years before her marriage to the late Robert McCordick of Roche's Point.

Harvey farmed at Roche's Point before coming to Newmarket. On November 29, 1910, he was married to Abbie Bell Thompson of Queensville and they have lived in Newmarket ever since. Harvey was caretaker of the post office for 21 years, retiring in May 1950.

He served overseas in England and France during the 1st Great War with the 220th Battalion and later transferred with the 4th C.M.R.

He was a member of the Trustee Board and Board of Stewards

This little patient in the oxygen tent was the first one in York County hospital to receive blood from the Newmarket Blood Bank. Nurse Mrs. Frances Lamb is shown assisting at bottle time. Mrs. O. B. Pearson, below, is giving blood, one of the first several donors who gave Friday. Left to right are Shelagh Lynch, hospital technician, Miss Bertha Tunney, operating room supervisor, Ray Parliament, donor, Mrs. Fred Edwards, donor, K. M. R. Stiver, chairman of hospital board and Miss L. Thomas, hospital superintendent.

Co-operation Of Many Shown In Success Of Hospital Blood Bank

The new blood bank for York County hospital received its first supplies last Friday. Although the first donors gave to the blood bank supplies on Friday, others had been giving directly to patients while the registration of donors was being made during the past two months.

From Newmarket, 130 people have been registered and typed. From Bradford, 25 members of the Lions Club were registered and typed by Lion Dr. Blackwell.

Over 35 members of the Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce were typed at the Greystones, Aurora. Some of the members wives were also registered and typed. Dr. Don Hutches, Joyce member, and Dr. Dales took the tests. Dr. John Dales, who spent a

CATTLE RUSTLING SUSPECTED IN KING

Cattle rustling is suspected in west King township where six beef animals have disappeared from two herds. B. G. Jackson and Clare Shaw lost respectively one of 20 Holsteins and five of six mixed cattle from two pastures near Schomberg on Saturday night.

The men were pasturing their cattle in adjacent fields on the seventh concession near Schomberg. Sometime on Saturday night, small trees were cut and laid across the wire fence of the Shaw pasture, and tracks indicated a truck was driven over them into the field where, presumably, the animals were loaded.

Provincial Constable A. E. Houldsworth, Newmarket, is investigating.

Once Landing Resident, Soon 90th Birthday

Mrs. Wm. S. McCullough of 21 Maxwell Avenue, Toronto, is celebrating her 90th birthday at her home on June 15. Mrs. McCullough was formerly Sarah Taylor, second daughter of the late Martin and Millicent Taylor, the former for many years organist and choir-master of Christ Church, Holland Landing.

In 1867 he wrote the music for Alexander Muir for the "Maple Leaf", Canada's national anthem. Mr. Muir at that time resided in Holland Landing and commuted daily to Newmarket, where he taught school.

Mr. Muir was not a musician, and Mrs. McCullough remembers the occasions when he came to their home and worked with her father on the song, he humming the tune he had conceived, her father writing the music.

Mr. Taylor was the first person to sing the "Maple Leaf" (before it was published), as a tenor solo at a benefit concert pleased with the effect that he Landing. Mr. Muir was so given in the school at Holland then had it published. Mr. Taylor later wrote the band parts for the song.

Mrs. McCullough is expecting that her only surviving sister, Mrs. John Wallace of Moose Jaw, Sask., will be her guest during June.

June 15 Parades Combine Air Force, Decoration Day

Decoration day on Sunday, June 15, will be one of the largest parade days seen in Newmarket. The Newmarket Veterans' Association will hold its decoration day parade and services at the veterans' memorial, Newmarket cemetery.

The Newmarket Wing of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association, with a large contingent of airmen from Camp Borden R.C.A.F. station, will combine its air force day parade with the Veterans' parade.

Members of the Canadian Legion have also been asked to parade. With bands arranged by the Veterans and the R.C.A.F., it promises to be one of the largest parades held in Newmarket.

The Veterans' Association is bringing the Salvation Army from West Toronto, with Bandmaster Sydney Jones, Brigadier Neil Warrander, Salvation Army padre who was in Italy and France for five years during the last war, will be one of the speakers.

The Air Force Association will bring the Air Force Band of Camp Borden under Flt. Lt. MacNamara and Bandmaster Cpl. Gibson. A flight of 60 airmen from Camp Borden Station will march.

Taking the salute will be President of the Dominion Command, Canadian Corps Association, Mr. Ed. Parsons, Rouen, Group Captain J. D. Syme,

Restrict Ages For Schools, 30 Off Lists

New restrictions on the public school entrance age will remove over 30 names from a list of beginners who have already been registered for the fall term.

At a meeting last night, the Newmarket public school board decided that the registration age for kindergarten must be five years on or before the opening day of school in September.

For the first grade, the registration age must be six years on or before the opening day of school in September.

Last month, 138 beginners had been registered for the September term. The large number registering and the lack of accommodation for the beginners prompted the board's action.

Most of the beginners were registered for grade one. During the registration, age restrictions were not enforced to the day but the general rule was five years old by December 31 for kindergarten and six years by December 31 for grade one. The board decided that the accommodation problem warranted the tighter restrictions.

There will be a kindergarten as usual in the Prince Charles school and the board plans to establish another kindergarten class in a school on the west side of town.

MT. ALBERT SPORTS DAY ON SATURDAY

Mount Albert is holding its 28th Annual Sports Day on Saturday, June 7, in the Mount Albert park where a full day's program has been set up to interest all ages. The day begins officially at 10 a.m. with a rural public school softball tournament to be followed by senior softball at 1.30.

Other day-time events include the tractor driving contest and horseshoe pitching contest. Supper will be served in the community hall from 5.30 p.m. on. Additionally, there will be rides and special booths and events for children. In the evening, Vince Mountford will present his stage show. There will be bingo under the auspices of the Mount Albert Legion and a dance to the music of Gordon Stickwood and his Legionnaires.

Council Grants Option On Eagle St. Property For Bell Co. Building

An option on Eagle St. property which may be used for a large Bell Telephone Co. building to house trucks and equipment was approved by council Monday night. A three month option was taken by Tom Birrell for 10 lots town-owned on the south side of Eagle St., between the street and Armitage Heights subdivision.

A price of $12 per foot had been set on the lots by the property committee which planned to sell them as individual building lots.

Mayor Vale said that he thought the same price should be asked if the property were bought for the Bell Telephone building. There would be no tax concessions and the land would be assessed on a regular basis, he said.

"This new building would be encouraging an expansion of an industry here which employs about 100 people," said the mayor.

Councillor Joseph Dales said that while the property committee had considered the sale of lots for houses, it preferred an industrial building.

According to the mayor, the building would be suitable for the district. It would be of cement block construction. The area surrounding would have an asphalt surfacing and the property would be surrounded by a green chain-link fence.

Whether the building program will be accepted by the Bell company will not be known immediately. It would depend on the company's acceptance of a lease from Mr. Birrell.

All members of council were in favor of granting the option.

GARDEN TEA TO AID HOSPITAL

A garden tea will be held at "Glenlonely", the home of Mrs. Schuyler, Snively, Lake St. George, R. R. 2, Aurora, on Friday, June 13, from 2 to 6 p.m. The entire proceeds will go to the York County Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

The Aurora group of the auxiliary will convene the garden tea with Mrs. Archie Cousins as general convener. A tour of the beautiful grounds of this estate will be conducted and at this time of year they are particularly colorful.

A car pool is being arranged in both Aurora and Newmarket. Anyone wishing transportation from the former town is requested to contact, Mrs. Frank Underhill, Aurora 295, and in Newmarket, Mrs. J. W. Bowman, phone 558, is convening the transportation.

NEED ADVERTISING, CONTACTS, SIGNS

Urges Policy To Attract New Industries

A greater effort to encourage new industry into Newmarket was urged by Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette at a council meeting on Monday night.

The deputy-reeve recommended that all properties, both private and town-owned, be categorized as to their availability and potential value to a prospective industry.

"We should category all properties in a book, recording dimensions, specifications, proximity to water, sewers and the availability of other properties outside of town which might be used by industry," he said.

He said that the council's industrial committee has set aside $1,500 in annual budgets to spend on trips to Ottawa or visits to potential industries interested in Newmarket. The clerk said $500 had been put in the budget this year.

"Even if we could get one industry employing 20 or 50 people, it would be worth spending that $500," said Mr. Spillette. He suggested advertising the town as a suitable centre for industrial purposes in a good type of business magazine.

"I don't think advertising would do much for us," said Mayor Vale. "But if one council member were to spend a week at the Trade Fair, we might learn something and make a few contacts with various industrial representatives."

The mayor said that Council for Boyd, chairman of the industrial committee had interviewed three potential industries in the past month. Last year, he said, five different U.S. industries were looking over the town. One is now established in Guelph, another in Quebec and there was no word of what happened to the others.

Last year contact was made with a firm interested in building a plant for the manufacture of lenses and instruments for military equipment. Mr. Spillette said it was a German firm which wanted to build outside urban districts indicated as bomb target areas. The firm was eventually established in Midland.

"That case shows that no matter how hard we go after an industry, there is always one determining factor which decides where the industry will go," said Reeve Arthur D. Evans. "There is no set rule on how to go after new industry," he said.

Town Clerk Wesley Brooks said that all information about the town of Newmarket has been listed with the Department of Planning and Development.

The mayor said, "For a couple of years I spent half my time with interested industrialists, looking over Newmarket, and what good did it do?"

The deputy-reeve said that council could easily spend $150 a year in business publications with some good advertising. He brought up a suggestion again for a large highway sign listing the number of industries in town, its population and other facts. "A lot of people travel up Yonge St. and never know anything about Newmarket. They don't even know where it is," he said.

"The logical place is to put the sign, not on a corner, but on Yonge St. between Eagle St. and Davis Dr. where car drivers get a chance to look at it," said Mr. Spillette.

Mayor Vale said that there would be a report at the next council meeting on the cost of a road sign.

"It seems there is no use in discussing magazine advertising any further then," Mr. Spillette concluded. Members of council showed no enthusiasm for the advertising.

Last Thursday and Friday nights were important to Guides and Brownies in Newmarket when both organizations held annual banquets. Some of the guides who took part in the banquet program are left to right, Donna Thornton, Betty McArthur, Margaret Ann Crowder and Mary Lou Van Zant. ## Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We have received an old photograph of a group of men of No. 8 Company, 12th York Rangers, in camp at Fort Qu'Appelle, in 1885. The men are lounging before their tents while in the centre of the picture, one man is about to give another a shave with a wicked looking straight razor.

Our correspondent says she remembers her father saying that one of the men in the picture was Walter Terry, one time a barber in Newmarket. If so, identification should be fairly simple. We're going to mount the picture and put it in the Era and Express window. We'd appreciate it if any others in the picture could be identified.

Who says there is nothing ever doing in a country town? For the past several weeks, the Coming Events column has been about the largest single item on the front page.

Some folks may have been misled by the report of a loose pig blocking traffic on Eagle St., but on the same page were photos or reports of the three-day Art Club exhibition, a repeat of a dance recital by Mrs. Gordon's classes, the announcement of the recital Monday by Mrs. Landon's dancers, a rural music festival in the Newmarket high school, a public schools music festival in the arena, the firemen's bingo, and other events.

The trouble is getting to them all, not wondering what to do.

We hear it said that there are so many sports events now that by the time the fans are spread around at each of them, there aren't enough at any one event to make a good-sized audience. Well, so what? It's a far more healthy situation than to have a limited few on the field while an unlimited majority sits on the stands and cheers.

There's a lot to be said for watching a game, and a good many of us have passed the age when we could field a ball without busting our buttons in the effort, but sport is primarily for those who participate in it, not for the benefit of those who watch it.

We think it is something to be proud of that so many participate in local sport. Last winter, we counted the number of men and boys, and women too, who were playing hockey in the district and the figure was startling. If we added the horseshoe pitchers, darts, checkers, tennis, and cribbage players (wouldn't consider that bingo rates as a sport), there would be a few indeed who didn't have an outside interest to keep them healthy.

And that leads us to a bone we've been long wanting to pick with the sports desk. Both George and Ab have wound up their reports from time to time with a demand to the fans to "get out and support the boys" in some last ditch battle. We grant that an audience on the side-lines is a great boost for the home forces, but why should we have to get out? Our understanding was that the boys were playing for the pleasure of the game, not for the chance to shine before the home folks. Or is that old fashioned?

Personally, we can't stand the rabid fan who roars around to all the games and by some psychological process, identifies himself with the players. He's a downright menace at times. He'd be far better off if he played a game himself, for better or worse. We'd rather see a couple of duffers' leagues in action instead of the hysterics at the sideline.

Of course, if that happened, there'd be no coffee pots at intermission, a shortage of those so necessary league executives, and last but not least, the willing providers of transport for out-of-town games. Things would be in a pretty pickle then.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

JUNE 3, 1927

Nearly all the property owners on Botsford St. are putting in sewer connections and the corporation is laying more pipe to take care of the flow which will result. It is expected the grading of the street, prior to the new pavement, will commence next week.

A lynx measuring four feet in length from the nose to the tip of its tail, was shot on the farm of Mr. Geo. Drury. This fine specimen will be on exhibition in the window of Harvey's book store when it returns from the taxidermist.

Every motorist in Ontario will be required to carry a driver's license after July 1. An order-in-council to this effect was passed at a cabinet meeting of the Ferguson government. It fixed a $1.00 fee for the license which will be valid until the end of 1928.

The license will be automatically granted to experienced drivers upon payment of the fee. Inexperienced drivers are first required to pass the scrutiny of inspectors. The government estimates the revenue will be somewhat in excess of $600,000.

Work is progressing favorably at Pickering College and it will be ready for the opening in September.

The academic committee, composed of Dr. W. P. Firth, Prof. Dorland, Mr. S. Rogers and the headmaster, Mr. Joseph McCulley, B.A., have been busy selecting the academic staff of the college.

The work on the new hospital is progressing favorably. It is expected the roof will be on next week. Mr. H. G. Binns has the contract for the electric wiring and is now on the job.

JUNE 6, 1902

The glad news was received on Sunday of the close of the war in South Africa, and on Monday a royal salute was fired by the Toronto Field Battery.

Last Saturday saw the close of nine days' racing at Woodbine under the auspices of the Ontario Jockey Club. There was a large attendance each day. J. E. Seagram and Wm. Hendrie won over $5,000 each.

At town council last Monday Mr. T. H. Lloyd was heard with reference to the sale of a strip of land on the Hewitt property to widen Botsford St. On behalf of his clients he asked $300 for seven foot deep and 150 feet from the corner of Main St.

Mr. Thos. Bacon has decided to erect a solid brick residence on Niagara St. The ground was staked out on Wednesday and excavation for the foundation commenced at once.

Mrs. Kennedy, corner of a new grain elevator and a new brick hotel with all modern conveniences, in the vicinity of the market, is now the talk here.

The Queen City Oil Co. is putting in an immense iron tank at the Newmarket G.T.R. depot, for the convenience of their customers. The tank is 32 feet long and nine feet in diameter, and it will hold about 200 barrels of coal oil. Messrs. Bacon have the job of constructing four piers of stone and brick eight feet high, on which the tank will rest.

The oil will be pumped into the reservoir from tank cars and emptied by a faucet on the same principle as the water-works. Oil will also be delivered around town by tank wagon.

THURSDAY, THE FIFTH DAY OF JUNE, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

YONGE ST. HAZARD

There doesn't seem to be the same volume of traffic using Yonge St. Probably more of the weekend travellers are using the new Barrie highway or the fourth concession. But it's a little early to be sure. The heavy traffic doesn't come for another month or so. In the meantime, if the Yonge St. traffic seems less, the traffic along Davis Dr. to Yonge seems to be increasing, and with that increase the hazards of the Yonge St.-Davis Dr. intersection increase proportionately.

So far, there have been no serious accidents at the corner which last year logged a weekly toll all summer. Regular drivers may have become aware of the dangers of the corner, or it may be just plain luck. Certainly, it's not because the provincial department of highways has acted. The corner remains as bereft of warnings as it was last year. No attempt has been made to widen the highway or ease the grade leading to the intersection from the south.

Now that Newmarket's municipal jurisdiction extends as far as Yonge St., we hope the council will take an interest in the corner. It is a dangerous corner. We don't know why the department of highways continues to ignore it, but perhaps a little push from the council could right that.

BOARDS VS COUNCILS

The proposal to abolish school boards, or at least limit their spending powers, was advanced again at the meeting of Ontario reeves and mayors at Ottawa last week. Elmer Brandon, former warden of York county and presently provincial member for York West, was in the van of the dissidents. Said he:

"By turning over their (school board) duties to a committee of council, the money raising body (council) would then have absolute control. Then we wouldn't run into a situation where essential services have to be deferred in order to meet the school budget and keep down the tax-rate."

It is to prevent just such a situation, the deferment of school spending in favor of other "essential services", that the school boards' budgets are placed beyond the authority of council. If councils did control school board budgets, the competition for the tax dollar between, say, a new road and a new classroom would be exceedingly brisk and the school board members would have no reason to believe that the latter would win.

Newmarket affords an example where a co-operative board delayed its "essential service" in favor of the town council's "essential service" when a few years ago the board allowed itself to be delayed in the start of the new Prince Charles school. Next year, every classroom was jammed and some children were kept out of school as a result.

The council at that time was not being simply ornery for the sake of it. They had to contend with their own "essential services" and a rising tax rate. They reduced their expenditures accordingly, and it must have been a gripping situation for the town to get along on starvation rations while the school board built, but the school was needed.

We agree that it is a bad business for one municipal body to have to levy the taxes for another to spend. It would be far more satisfactory if each municipal spending body were made directly responsible to the taxpayers, and had the responsibility of collecting their own revenues. But pending such a situation, experience seems to indicate that if we are to have a sound school system, the school boards must be free to levy as the need arises. Too often in the past school needs have been postponed in favor of other municipal services, and it is not a healthy situation.

BRUNDLE VS 'AUTHORITY'

The North Gwillimbury re-assessment last year has inspired a remarkable pamphlet by Mr. John Brundle of Roche's Point in which he assails all concerned with the assessment of a cabin he has on Snake Island. Snake Island is an Indian reserve, and Mr. Brundle contends that the township had no right to assess his cabin on it.

If Mr. Brundle has a case, as the sources he cites would indicate, he should be granted a more thorough hearing than he seems to have had so far. There is no great amount of money involved, and for that reason it would be easy to dismiss the matter as not worth bothering about, and to dismiss Mr. Brundle as simply another crank.

But there is a matter of principle and if Mr. Brundle has the case which he maintains he has, he is the victim of the sort of administrative injustice which is the bane of our over-governed life today. These things should be spoken against, and Mr. Brundle, in his own way, has performed a service in publicizing the issue.

TIME FOR ACTION

It was hoped that the earlier decision of the province to study provincial-municipal financial relations, including the system of grants, would have borne fruit by now. When the harvest proved barren it was proposed at the meeting of mayors and reeves at Ottawa last week that the provincial government pay an interim grant of $5 per capita to the municipalities. How sad it was that the proposal was eventually side-stepped.

How much sadder it will be if the government waits much longer before producing an alternative to the present system of over-taxing, and then returning to the victim a portion of his tax money in the form of grants, neatly wrapped in the conditions for spending it. Property taxes have become a major hardship but they would be less onerous if the provincial government were to reduce the general taxes out of which it pays municipal grants, and give municipalities more freedom to raise their own revenues according to their needs.

HOUSING ALTERNATIVE

The meeting of the Ontario mayors and reeves in Ottawa had nothing to say that was reported on the subject of the low rental housing scheme, possibly because it is so new. Only Newmarket and one other municipality are being considered. But they did have comments to make on the federal government's National Housing Act which, it was contended, was too stringent.

It seems to us that the discussion is pertinent to Newmarket at the present time. Here, a proposal is being discussed to provide homes which will rent on a basis of income. The provincial and federal governments will share the cost of building them. An independent housing authority will rent them. Taxes will be set in terms of rent, and Newmarket, should the scheme be adopted, must be prepared to accept a tax loss if the rents fall below a stipulated level.

The disadvantages of the proposal, as outlined in earlier editorials, are that the municipality gives an independent body, the housing authority, the right to set taxes by determining the rents, and secondly, the municipality must be prepared to accept a tax loss should the rents fall below a level set by the government. Here is one proposal to provide that scarest of commodities today, a low rental home.

In the terms of the National Housing Act is another means to provide homes for those needing them. As the discussion at the Ottawa meeting indicated, however, the act will have to be overhauled considerably before it can be made to apply to present housing shortage.

Biggest objection raised at Ottawa was that regulations were too tough. Since the government was putting up the bulk of the funds for N.H.A. homes, the government has insisted upon the best of home construction which in turn has increased the cost of the finished product. As Mayor Jackson of Hamilton said: "Families... are forced to live in revolting conditions because they can't possibly meet the high down payments to buy, or pay the high rents required for the type of housing insisted upon by the N.H.A."

If the N.H.A. was changed to permit cheaper building, would proposals such as that being considered for Newmarket be necessary? There is no question of the advantages of a revised N.H.A. when compared to the low rental proposal. The former places the financial responsibility where it belongs, upon the builder, instead of asking taxpayers of the municipality in which he builds to share some of the cost. It is objected that a reduction of N.H.A. standards would mean the erection of potential slum areas, but if the housing shortage warrants proposals which strike at the base of our tax system, as in the case of the low rental scheme, it surely warrants a relaxation of architectural standards.

We think the government has an obligation to assist in the provision of cheaper homes but we do not think that usurpation of municipal authority, or the requirement that property owners risk sharing a tax loss, should be needed, not when the federal government already possesses machinery which, after a bit of tinkering, could do the job.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Up to this time I have refrained from commenting on this hoof and mouth business since it only concerns cloven-hoofed quadrupeds.

Up to this time I have kept my opinions about Ottawa pretty well under control. This brings to mind a friend of mine who has seven children. "How can I speak against Ottawa when I'm subsidized by the baby bonus?" he said.

But your favorite correspondent can't be shut up by Ottawa's money. No sir. I'm not subsidized by Ottawa and I'll not shut up.

Concerning hoof and mouth, it was with horror that I read in a newspaper report that "Ruffie" the goat, mascot of the Regina Rough Riders, had been "shot as a suspected carrier of hoof and mouth disease."

Shot as a suspect! Are we living in a democracy or aren't we? Why didn't Ruffie have a fair trial? What's behind all this? Did Ruffie speak against Ottawa?

These unanswered questions are questions that we well might think about and we well might think twice about the significance of this high-handed government action.

Is government control getting to the point where an innocent goat "falls under a rain of police bullets" in a vicious drive to rid Ottawa of its enemies?

It was on a sunny afternoon in Calgary that the bloody shooting took place. Ruffie was housed in a barn with some bulls when the police made a raid. Ruffie had been in semi-retirement since 1950, on the reserve list, and made only a few public appearances on the football field.

He dreamed of the days when he proudly led the football parade, of the days when he ca-vorted in Calgary with the Stampeders' pony before the grandstands. Was it this association with Calgary that prompted Ottawa retaliations? Or were the bulls members of a subversive communist element?

Maybe Ruffie was just a victim of a mass purge. Possibly those bulls had leftist leanings and through association in the same barn, Ruffie was unjustly named a suspect and was liquidated in an Ottawa purge.

At any rate, I figure the hoof and mouth excuse is just a cover-up. Ottawa wanted to get rid of Ruffie and in a totalitarian action, wiped him out "in a rain of police bullets."

Of course it is possible too, that the bulls were innocent victims. Consider the bulls too, I say. Ruffie could have been Ottawa's chief objective in the purge and the poor bulls were taken along too, as innocent victims.

Shed a tear for Ruffie and shed a tear for the bulls.

This matter of hoof and mouth policy can become serious. As you can see, it has become a political football already.

It has been convenient for Ottawa to attach a stigma to all cloven-hoofed beings. Already in the west, there exists a wide gap between cloven-hoofed and non-cloven hoofed classes.

Who next is going to be the victim? Who next will fall, the innocent ones, of a terrible "rain of police bullets". It is time to rally to the challenge. This high handed action for the state's convenience must stop!

Take a look at your own hoofs and reflect a bit. Are your hoofs cloven? If they are, you too may be under the eagle eye of Ottawa.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

As time goes by and no new outbreak of the foot and mouth disease is reported, a cautious note of optimism is creeping into our minds.

We think we should be grateful, if this is the case, and having freely pointed the finger of blame, now we should acknowledge a job well done. Disinfection is just a word when you read it. We wonder if you realize what a terrific job it is to disinfect a barn the way it had to be done out there. Our information is that stables and barns have been scrubbed with a lye solution.

When the farmer only had a frame stable, and put a reasonable price on it, the stable was pushed away with a bulldozer and then burned. Double boarded barns had the inside boards taken out. The straw burned. All hay and straw was burned.

These are just words to us though, unless we tried to do a job like this. Our barn spring cleaning was done the other day. We could see what a terrific effort it is to clean up a barn. And from all reports we had, it seems that the job has been done and has been done well.

Probably the most justified cause for optimism is the fact that while the cause of the original outbreak is still a deep mystery, the other outbreaks could be all traced, through contacts of cattle with other cattle or humans. This is reassuring, because it eliminates the awful feeling of uncertainty, of not knowing where it will strike next. All we can say is that let us hope it is done and over with and let us well remember the lesson it is teaching us.

What will happen after we are definitely cleaned up and the disease has been tramped out? That is hard to say. Some people think that dressed beef will go across the border before live animals will. That sounds reasonable. It is possible that importation of live animals will be allowed from some parts of the country before others.

It is possible that we won't ship anything for some time, but when we do ship, it will be at lower prices because there is lots of beef across the border. There were 29.5% more beef cows in the United States on Jan. 1, 1952 than there were in 1949.

Let us remember too, that with the advantage in climatic conditions and the ability to produce corn cheaper than we can, beef will always be cheaper to produce across the border. So even if the border is open again, the price to expect is at the best a floor price, but not the great bonanza of 1949 or '50.

Possibly the dairy cattle surplus will find a better and readier market. For the same dates mentioned above the number of dairy cows was down 1.9%. This is a hopeful figure. Dairy farmers with surplus heifers should cull rigidly now, and buy the odd top animal when it is cheap. They will more than get their money back for their surplus once the border is open.

And finally it might be wise to try to work some arrangement with the United Kingdom so we won't again have all our eggs in the same basket. Had it not been for the co-operation of the New Zealand government, we would be in a very tight spot, with the cold storage full of pork, and the heavy cattle having no place to go. And by the way, this is the same New Zealand that is selling us cheese while we have such a serious surplus of it. This is a good thing to remember too. If their cheese had been forbidden from our market, it could have meant a slightly higher price at home, but we would have lost more having our beef surplus home too.

The by-elections held last week were one of the main topics of conversation here on capital Hill. Conservatives won four of the six contests and of course are well pleased with the results which were beyond their expectations. The government retained Waterloo in Ontario and Brome-Missisquoi in Quebec but lost Ontario County, Roberval in Quebec and Gloucester in New Brunswick. Conservatives retained Victoria-Carleton in N.B.

The results were disappointing to the government but so many factors enter into a by-election that the government does not view the outcome as an expression of lack of confidence in the major policies of the administration. The still large government majority in the house was no doubt a big factor in the voting. Many people felt that the government majority, no matter what the by-election result, was still large and the best contribution to good government at this time would be added strength to the opposition. There are no indications that the result will hasten a general appeal to the country. This parliament was elected in June, 1949, and the next election could be as late as the fall of 1951. However, governments do not as a rule wait until the end of elected terms for a general election and some time in 1953 would seem a probable time for the next appeal to the voters.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has made it clear, however, that he will not hesitate to consult the people should the government's position on an important issue be challenged by the opposition. Redistribution is still in the committee stage and promises to inspire some heated debate at this session. Indications are that there will be three new seats in York County, bringing the total to seven. The Yorks are now among the most populous ridings in Canada. York East has 159,652, York West 126,420, York North 122,538 and York South 92,258.

The new ridings of course will be at the south end of the county and the boundaries of North York will be changed to give us a population of about 50,000. There is a lot of political activity throughout Canada this summer. Provincial campaigns are now in full swing in Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Quebec.

The voting in Saskatchewan is June 11 and Premier Douglas' C.C.F. administration is seeking a third term. Liberal Leader Walter Tucker is conducting a vigorous campaign and is conceded a fair chance of victory. Three parties, Liberal, Conservative and C.C.F., are battling it out in B.C. and it will be a wide open fight on June 12. Experienced political observers here suggest the possibility of a Liberal and Conservative coalition to give the Pacific province a stable government.

In Quebec, the experienced campaigner Duplessis has called the voting for July 16. His Union Nationale party is pretty firmly entrenched and is likely to be re-elected.

Colombo Plan
Under the Colombo Plan, Pakistan will get $2 million worth of Canadian rail sleepers. In Canada we call them ties, but we have accepted the British term for Colombo Plan purposes. There was something of a furore in Pakistan when it was announced $2 million worth of ties were coming from Canada. The question was why all those ties for a country where people don't wear ties. Hence the use of the word "sleepers".

Victoria Day
Victoria Day next year and in all future years will be celebrated on the Monday nearest to the 24th of May. The change has been well received and is in line with public preference for Monday holidays. It is rather unusual that we continue to celebrate Victoria Day in this country. Fifty years after the death of the beloved sovereign we continue to observe a holiday on her birthday, something not done in any other part of the Commonwealth and

Ottawa Asks Farmers Of Livestock, Seeding

How many livestock are there in Canada? How many of these are dairy and how many are beef animals? What is the acreage seeded to grains in Canada in 1952? How much of this acreage is sown to wheat and to feed grains? These and a host of other questions can best be answered by asking the farmers of Canada.

Therefore, each year at this time, the Bureau of Statistics in co-operation with the provinces distributes questionnaires to farmers throughout Canada so that every farmer may have the chance to supply information about acreages and livestock on his own farm.

The June crops and livestock survey is a voluntary one. Many farmers supply information every year and this year again all farmers are urged to co-operate in the survey. The object is to get a large number of completed reports back to the statistical offices as soon after June 1 as possible.

The individual reports will then be grouped together and estimates of acreages and livestock numbers will be made for each province across Canada. The 1952 estimates will be related to the census figures of June 1, 1951 and it will be important to know what changes have occurred since then.

The statistics obtained from the June Survey are an essential part of agricultural statistics in Canada. They form a base for the crop production estimates later on in the year and the livestock numbers are used to determine meat consumption in Canada and supplies available for export. Government bodies, farm organizations, industry and international organizations such as the Food and Agriculture Organization use the figures extensively.

OBITUARY

John Irlby Jones

John Irlby Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan Jones, Brownhill, died almost instantly when the T.T.C. street car he was riding on was in collision with a truck at New Toronto.

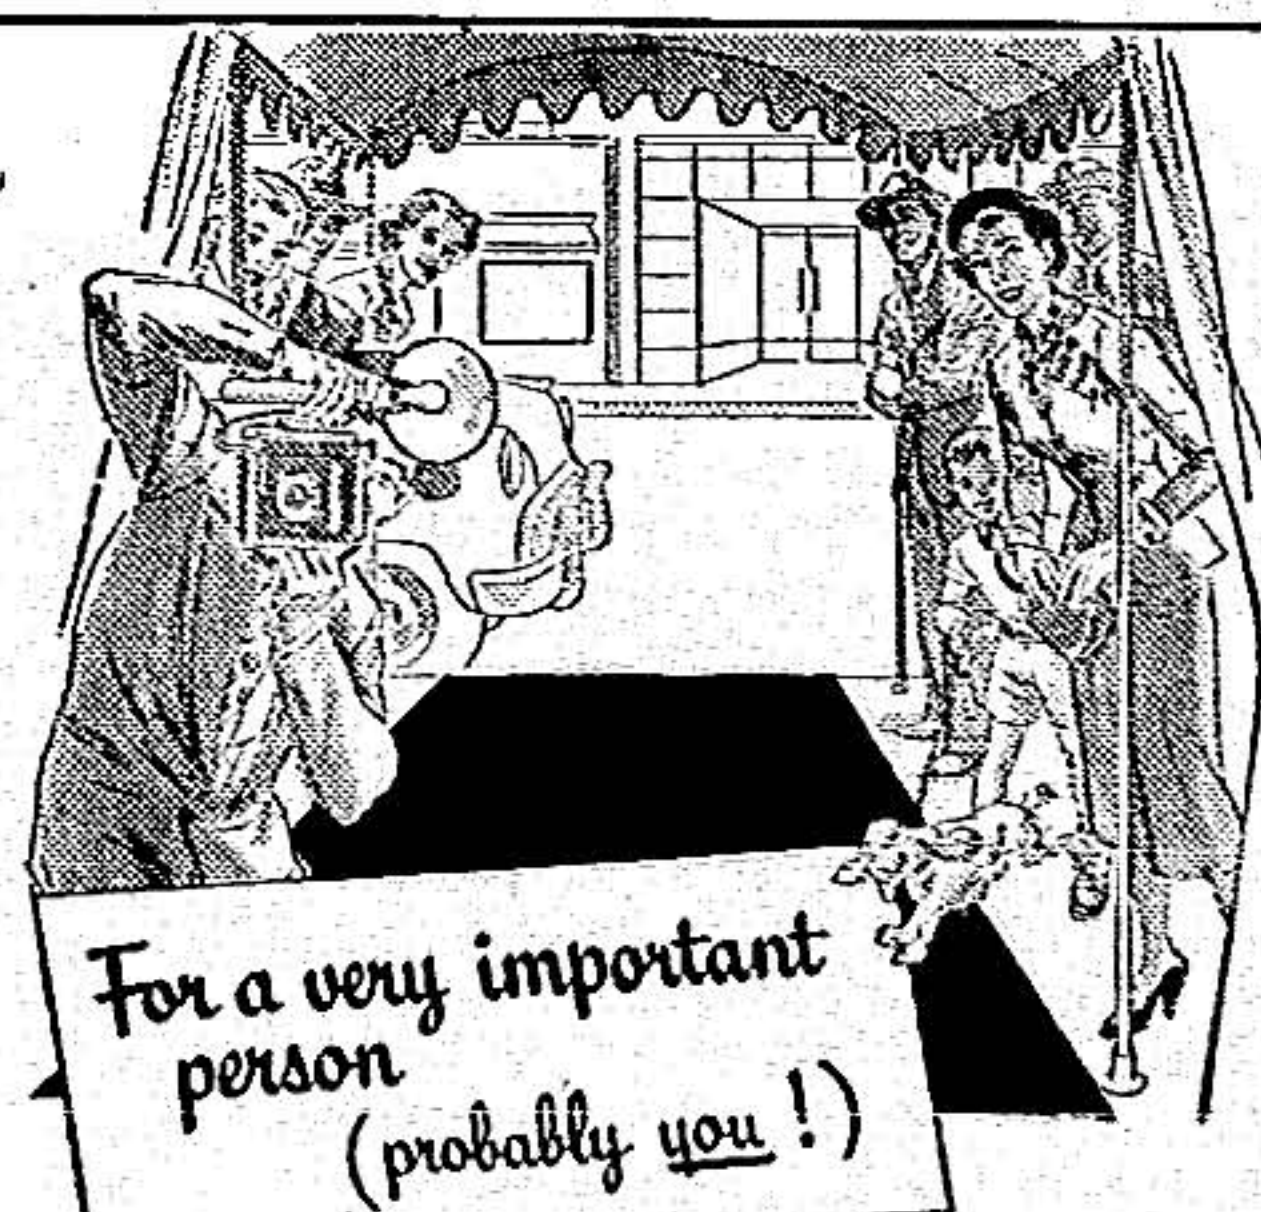

He was born at the farm where his family now live on Nov. 1, 1915. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in September, 1941, from which he was honorably discharged in August, 1942. He worked at the C.I.L. plant at Ajax until it closed after the war. He was employed at the Good-Year tire plant at New Toronto at the time of his death. He was fond of motor-cycling and used to attend the district matches.

He is mourned by his parents, five brothers, Alva, Ivan, Harold, Harvey and Morgan, and four sisters, Blanche (Mrs. Stark of Stayner), Marjorie, Erie and Mary.

Rev. Priddle conducted the funeral service. Interment was in Mount Albert cemetery. The sympathy of all who knew the family is extended in their loss.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Katherine Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ewing, Newmarket, is a member of the graduating class of the School of Nursing, St. Michael's hospital, Toronto. The exercises were held at Convocation Hall University of Toronto, on Tuesday, May 27, when Miss Ewing was awarded a scholarship for post graduate study in operating room technique.

He may not be a celebrity, a high government official or captain of industry. But, for his contribution to the welfare of his community, he deserves to have a carpet rolled out for him! Who is he?
He is the typical life insurance policyholder—a man whose influence on your standards of living is greater than you may think! For part of his premium money, invested for him by a life insurance company, has helped to build new schools, highways, industrial plants, housing, oil pipelines, and many other important projects from coast to coast. Yet perhaps the most important contribution he makes to his community is simply this: As a life insurance owner, he is doing his best to make sure that he and his family will always be independent. No wonder we're rolling out the carpet for him—and the millions of Canadians he represents!

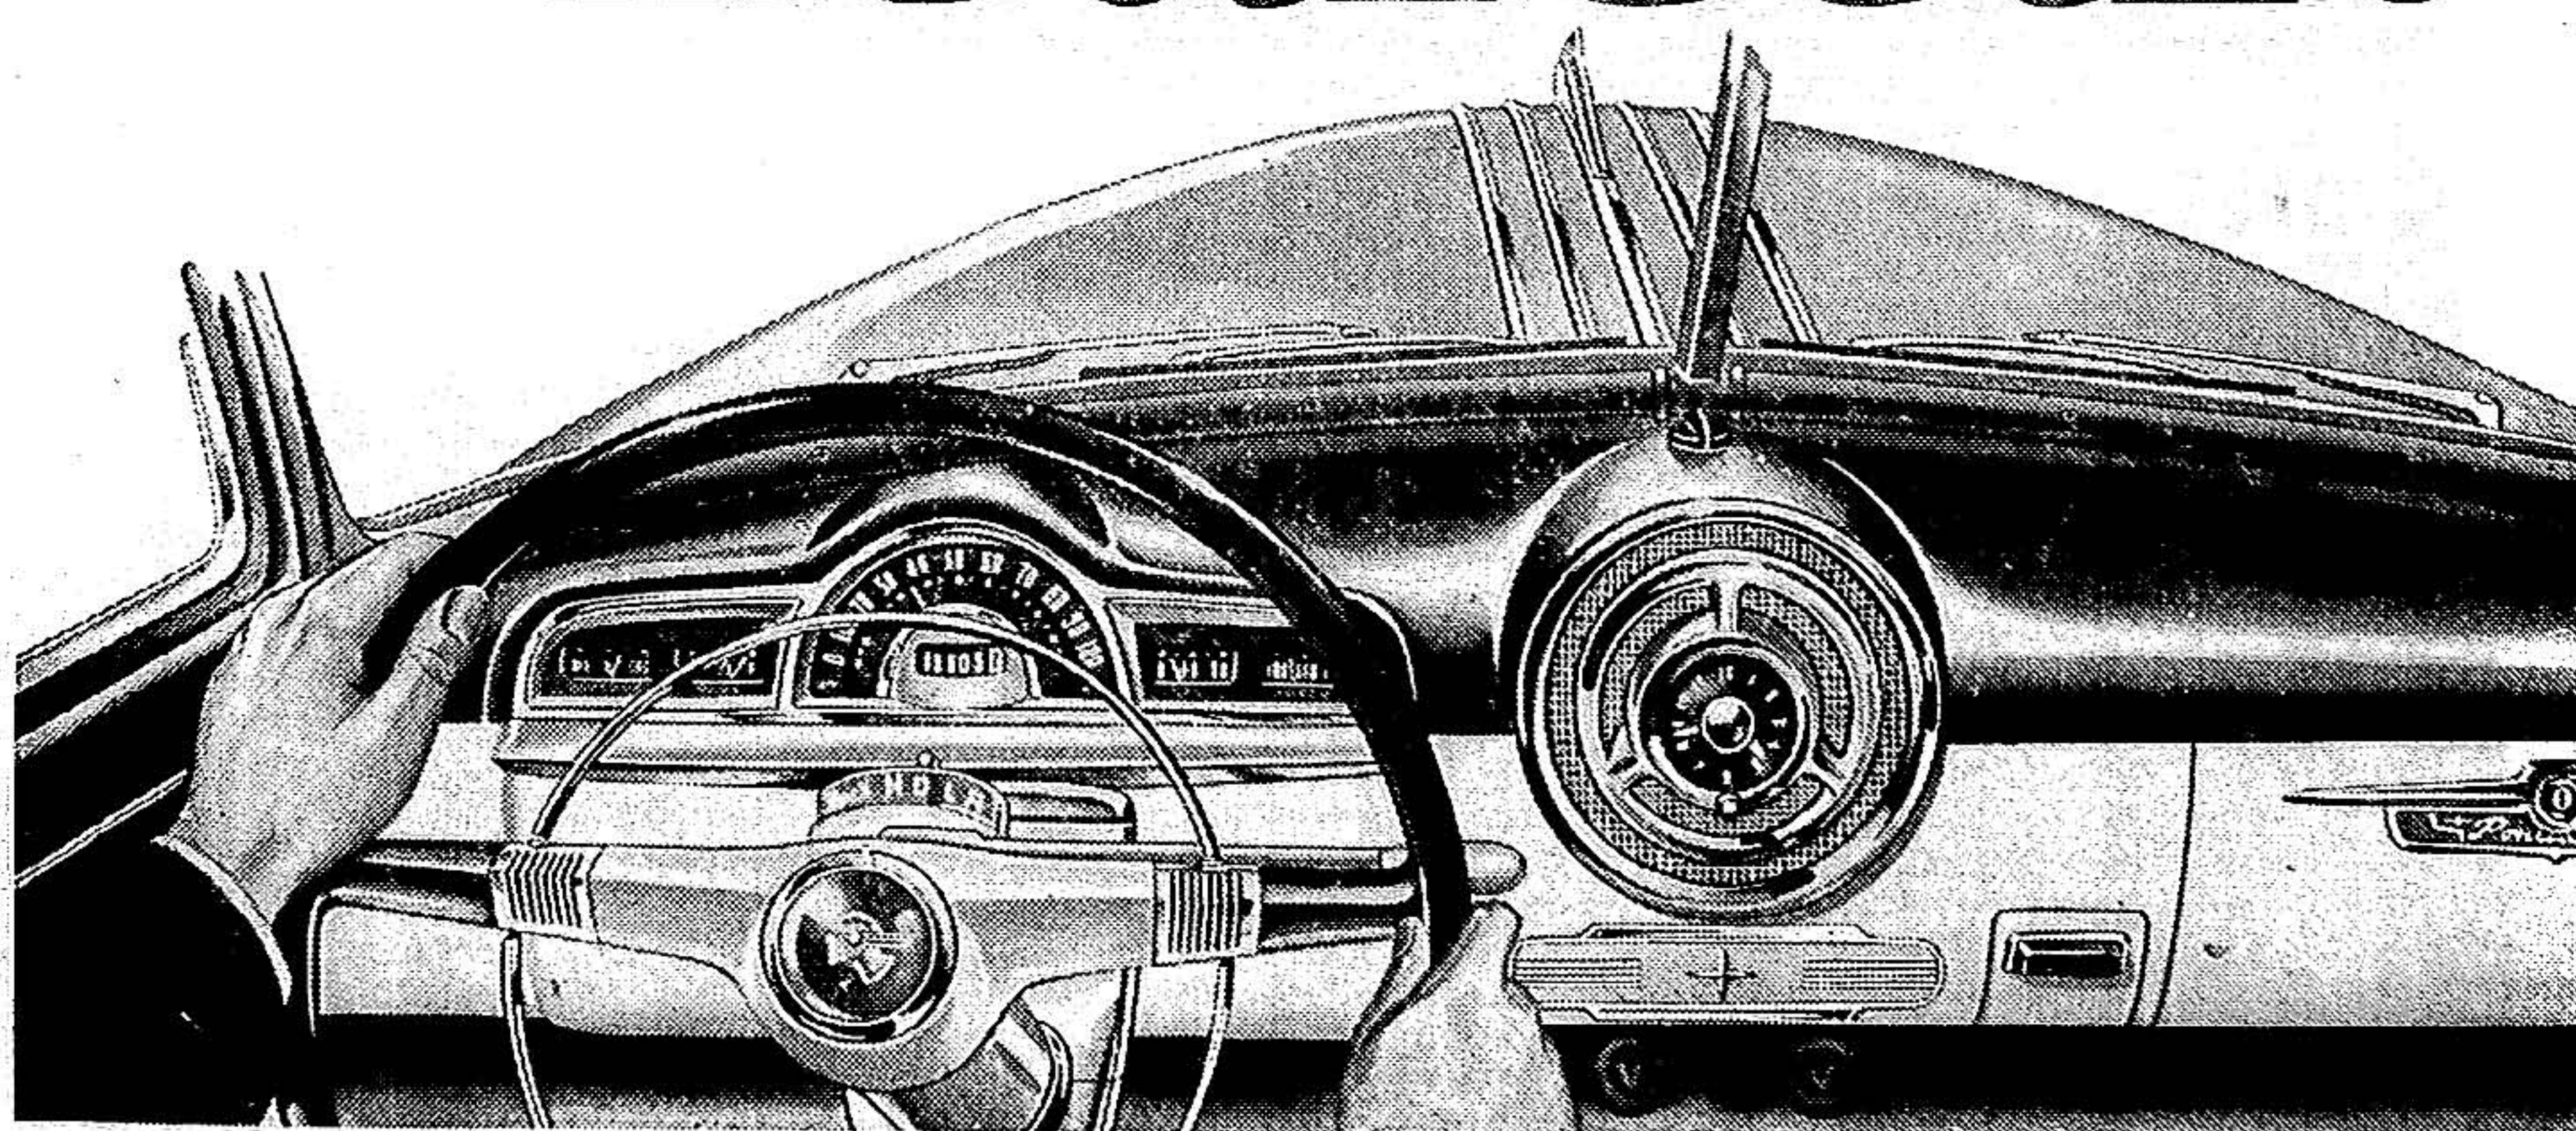

More than 50 life insurance companies in Canada compete actively to offer you the best possible life insurance service. A trained life underwriter from any of these companies will gladly help you choose the kind and amount of life insurance that will best fit your own individual needs.

HOLDER—CUPPLES

St. James' Anglican church, Sutton, was the setting for the marriage of Olive Mae Cupples, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cupples, to Mr. William Thomas Holder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Holder, Sutton. Rev. W. J. D. Smith officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. M. Tremayne played the wedding music and soloist was Mr. Clarence Selby.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white tulle with lace over tulle with a long-sleeved jacket. The circular skirt was gathered at the waistline and fell into a long train. Her full length veil was held in place by a tiara and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Grace Nolan, in Nile green net over tulle. Bridesmaids were Pauline Beatty, Rheta and Evelyn Cupples, all gowned in pink tulle with bouquets of roses to match.

Patsy Nolan, niece of the bride, dressed in Nile green or-gandy over tulle, was flower girl. She carried a basket of assorted flowers.

Pearson Holder was the best man while Richard Holder, Bruce and Donald Cupples were ushers.

A reception followed at Knox United church hall where the bride's mother received in black lace over orchid tulle with accessories to match. Her corsage was of yellow and white roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. Holder, who chose mauve dress of tissue faille with navy accessories and similar corsage. For travelling to Ottawa and Quebec the bride chose an aqua blue suit with pink and navy accessories.

They will make their home at Jackson's Point.

FELLOW SINGERS MARK ANNIVERSARY

Following the regular practice of the senior choir, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, on Thursday, May 22, presentations were made to Miss Jean Benoit and Wilfred Traviss. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Traviss celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, May 24, and Miss Benoit is a bride-elect of May 31.

Rex Barber, choir president, made the address and Miss Shirley Cass presented Miss Benoit with a gift. Making the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Traviss on behalf of the choir was Mrs. Bernard Lee. Miss Dorothy Broughton presented Miss Benoit with a gift from the choir's double trio of which she was a member. Mr. Traviss is the oldest member of the choir.

A social half-hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

As we came in from the garden this evening we thought of a remark made to us about another garden in town, that of Mr. and Mrs. Kidd. We smiled when thinking how inappropriate the description would have been of our place. The Kidd garden was described as "vacuumed". Once gardening starts our living room does well to look vacuumed without that same tidiness following out-of-doors.

One of the visitors to the Kidd gardens during the tulip visit of the Newmarket Horticultural society was exclaiming to us over the beauties of the flowers. "They were so lovely. There was such a range of color and everything in the garden was so well tended. Their gardens looked as if they'd been vacuumed especially for company."

And here we stood, gazing at the feathery topped dandelions which had defied our lawnmower. No one could say that lawn looked vacuumed.

One might have said the lawn was peppered with ungainly dandelions standing resolutely on their long hollow stems. But, on closer examination one could find some binder weed, both twitch and crab grass, and perhaps even one or two thistles. When the flower borders are neatly edged and free of weeds the rocky is a dense entanglement... not of alpine plants, but more weeds. Lucerne does so well there.

"Vacuumed, humph," we remarked to ourselves as we wearily put away the hoe, clippers and other gardening tools for another night; washed some of the good earth from our calloused palms and resignedly faced the dinner dishes. Dishes can be washed after dark when you can't clip around the young trees, transplant some annuals or weed the strawberry patch.

The likelihood of that remark being applicable to our garden is very remote. So remote as almost to discourage our further efforts.

Tomorrow we shall ignore the garden. There will be no planting, no weeding, no cultivating. If necessary we shall wear blinkers, seeing neither to right nor left, thus avoiding the ever-present challenge. Well, perhaps we could find time to bring up a hamper of top soil for the terrace garden. It could use some peat moss and bone meal also. Wonder if it's too late to transplant ferns from the woods? Must try and get some. And, there are those aster seeds

This year's crop of fleet footed athletes at the N.H.E. set eight new records at the school's annual track and field meet. Paul Widdfield was runner-up in the junior race and established a new shot put mark. Taylor Gilbert set two new senior marks. Jerry Hugo for a second year was crowned senior boys' champion. Bob Dick dominated the intermediate field with 28 points. L. to r. Paul Widdfield, Taylor Gilbert, Jerry Hugo, Bob Dick.

Optimists Win Twin Bill

Frank Hollingsworth's Newmarket Optimist pee-wees and bantams won a double-header North York baseball attraction from Bill Mundell's Aurora opposites at the fair grounds Saturday. Optimists rolled to a 10-3 win in the pee-wee contest and nipped Aurora 7-4 in the bantam saw-off.

Coach Hollingsworth sent five hill-top artists, Ralph Bray, Don Bone, Terry Budd, Jim McArthur and Bob Keffer, to the mound to stop Aurora pee-wee swingers on one hit. Don Collins produced that one, a single in the first frame and it sent Aurora into a temporary one-run lead.

Optimists replied with four, due chiefly to timely slugging by Jim McArthur and Bob Keffer, and from there on were in the driver's seat.

A four-run first innings and a pair of fifth frame runs gleaned off a wild throw by catcher Paul Babcock staked the Optimists to their 7-4 bantam triumph. Aurora out-hit the locals 7-5 with Alan Childs and Herb McKenzie, visitors' big guns with two each. Lorne Babcock's two doubles and a single, Charlie McGuire's triple and Ken Bell's single provided the Optimist hitting. Jack Brooks, after relieving Bud Sutton in the initial round, pitched steady ball. Don Thoms went the route on the Newmarket hill.

Pee-wee: Aurora, H. Hammond, J. Leaborn, A. Smith, R. Walker, D. Collins, K. Holman, L. Sutton, K. Browning, C. Vrana, G. Chapman, D. Rutledge, P. Babcock.

Newmarket: I. Dick, T. Brooks, W. Crouch, G. Campbell, H. Brice, G. Bugler, E. Hartling, F. Lewis, D. Bone, J. McArthur, B. Keffer, T. Budd, C. Stevens, B. Macnab, R. Bray.

Bantam game: Aurora, A. Childs, D. Fines, H. McKenzie, W. Jans, B. Sutton, P. Babcock, R. White, J. Brooks, C. Vrana, K. Browning.

Newmarket: D. Zogalo, J. McGuire, L. Babcock, C. McGuire, B. Wilson, K. Bell, W. Forhan, B. Million, P. Ewing, W. Cain, B. Jones, D. Thoms.

Pitchers' Duel In Town Loop

Pitchers' night in last Wednesday's twin-bill town league clashes. Don Glover, Specialty lefty, forged a two-hitter to eight ball. Dewey Kuhns' Hoffman Pressman 4-1. Sports-Cycles, the have-nots of the circuit, went down to their fourth straight loss, dropping a 4-0 decision to Alf. Peel's Thompson-Bell pole climbers.

Harvey Murray and Morley Cook working the T-B's pitching shift, silenced the light hitting Cyclemen on two hits. Specialty's Glover and Hoffman's Bill VanZant tuned in on a terrific mound duel in their clash. All but one of the games' runs were unearned.

Hoffman got the jump with a first innings run off a missed third strike and infield hobble. That one run stood up until the fourth. Specialty clicked for two tallies via Bun Cook's single and two Hoffman infield miscues. Specialty got two on Don Burch's single, a third base error and Don Glover's single in the seventh.

Roy Smalley, going great guns in the Hoffman pasture, nipped Glover's budding no-hitter in the fourth with a Texas league single. Bruce Townsley collected Hoffman hit two, a perfect bunt. Don Burch paced the Specialty bingle-makers with two.

Two bad innings, third and fourth, hexed Cycles' bid for an initial win. A hip pocket pop up in front of the plate gave T.B.'s their first two runs and an infield roller Johnston ran their count to four. Harvey Gibney's second frame and Art. Dobbie's sixth frame singles counted all the Cycles' hits. Don Smith tripled and singled to lead T.B. hitters. Harvey Murray whiffed four and Morley Cook five Cyclemen.

Aurora Splits With Hill

Despite fancy ten strike-out pitching by Geo. Kiroff, Bill Mundell's Aurora Legionnaires had to be content with a 4 all tie with Richmond Hill last Wednesday in their opening game in the North York Midget Baseball League. Trailers 3 - 1 heading into the fifth, Aurora exploded for three runs to carve a narrow 4 - 3 edge.

That margin stood up until the seventh when the Hillers cashed the tying run.

Bob Andrews and Norm Etheridge swung heavy bats for Aurora, lashing out a double and single each. "Red" Hart, who pitched for the Hillmen, stayed pitch for pitch with Geo. Kiroff and found time along with Lloyd Grainger and Paul Atkinson to pace the visitors' batting. Grainger, Hiller's third sacker, and Bud Sutton, Legion infielder, shone.

Bantams Take Wilcox

Exploding for seven first and four second frame runs, Newmarket Optimists jumped away to a 13 - 4 win over Lake Wilcox Rangers Thursday in their home opener in the North York Bantam Baseball League.

Jack Cain and Don Thoms combined to handcuff Bob Russell's Wilcoxers on six hits. Don Zogalo and Bill Forhan bolstered the six-hit pitching with a pair of solid socks each. John Kerrington and Ron Ellis, Lakers' first year rookies, showed promise with a pair of hits.

Lake Wilcox: J. Hibert c, M. Ross 2b, J. Wright 3b, R. Ellis c, D. Geary lf, J. Kerrington ss, H. Hughes rf, H. Wright 1b, K. Barnes p.

Newmarket: J. Cain, D. Thoms, W. Cain, D. Zogalo, L. Babcock, C. McGuire, J. McGuire, B. Wilson, K. Bell, W. Forhan, B. Walker, B. Million, P. Ewing, B. Jones.

SOCCER LOOKS BRIGHTER

Newmarket plans for a soccer team took a turn for the better after Friday's get-together and a practice session held over the weekend. Nine players were on hand for the practice with the prospect of several additional recruits coming out for the next session. Trainee list included Harry Lavender, Clem Elias, Bob Petch, all of Vander, Klass Vanderwal, Bob Middleton, Joe Calvert, Norm Taylor, Newmarket, and John Rendering, Kettleby. Club's present plan is to hold further practices this week and then to approach Bradford for an exhibition game.

by Elmer Ferguson

An old, worn-out fighter named Lee Savold was mercilessly battered until he collapsed the other night. He was pitting only courage, and a fistically worn-out body, against a youngster named Rocky Marciano, who may not be a great heavyweight, but had lithe and resilient youth on his side. And so the veteran went the way of all other veterans when they meet the sharper reflexes, and the fire of youth in the battle-plt.

I think that before any veteran fighter undertakes to tackle a youngster who is on the upgrade, even though he feels he can flatten anything he can hit, he should take a trip up to New York's crowded, noisy Harlem. There any sunny afternoon, he will see a stout, amiable Negro plodding his sightless way along the streets. He will be exchanging jovial greetings with those friends and acquaintances who know him as a familiar figure, and he will go chuckling on his way, through the darkness that has befallen him, because he was always chuckling, sometimes, even, in the ring.

The stout blind man was a great fighter, once. He was the Canadian-born Negro heavyweight, Sam Langford - in our book the greatest of all the black dynasty of champions and near champions, Harry Willis, Joe Jeanette, Sam McVey and even Jack Johnson, whom he once chased half-way around the world, seeking a bout. But Johnson had boxed "Them" once before, and that was enough. So Johnson fled to Australia and fought Tommy Burns instead.

Sam lives today on a small pension closing out in the shadows a career of great renown, without ever having been given a chance at the title.

And perhaps if any veteran fighter consulted him about "just one more match" Langford might tell him about the night in Boston, when he sat in his chair at the end of six rounds with tall, long-armed Fred Fulton and after 16 years of fighting against all the opponents of a great heavyweight period, was unable to leave his seat when the gong rang for the start of the seventh. For he was blind.

The sight of one eye had already been lost. And the long arm of Fulton had put out the other - at least for the night.

Langford completely lost the sight of both eyes later and never regained more than fractional vision. Still, he hung around the ring for an over-all period of 21 years, and was knocked out by mediocre fighters that, in his hey-day, he could have flattened with one of those thundering left hooks.

So a great fighter, who tried to fight the years, went on to the inevitable disaster. Veterans who have been great, or even good, should consult Sam Langford before taking that "one more fight", which might spell physical disaster, and take warning from his unhappy finish.

Perhaps too much stress is laid on courage in the boxing ring. We believe "I Can Take It" is a vicious slogan, despite its popularity in boxing circles. There was that fine young boxer, Babe Usher, of whom it was boasted he never took a backward step. He too wound up his career blind. Adolph Wolgast, one of the great lightweight champions, a boxer noted for his bulldog aggressiveness, is finishing out his days in a mental institution. What price courage? What price that "just one more" fight?

Leafs, Cubs Win

Leafs and Cubs were Saturday morning winners in the School Pee-Wee baseball league. Leafs made it three in a row by topping the Chiefs 14 - 8. Leafs struck for seven runs in fourth and four in the second.

In the best game of the current crop, a fifth innings run gave the Cubs a 5 - 4 win over the Royals. It was the Cubs' first win of the season and was an uphill fight for them all the way as the Royals smashed for four first innings runs.

Ernie Hartling, Jim Garrett, and Eddie Thornton were Cub hit leaders. Jim McArthur, Wayne Crouch, John McKnight hit for the Royals.

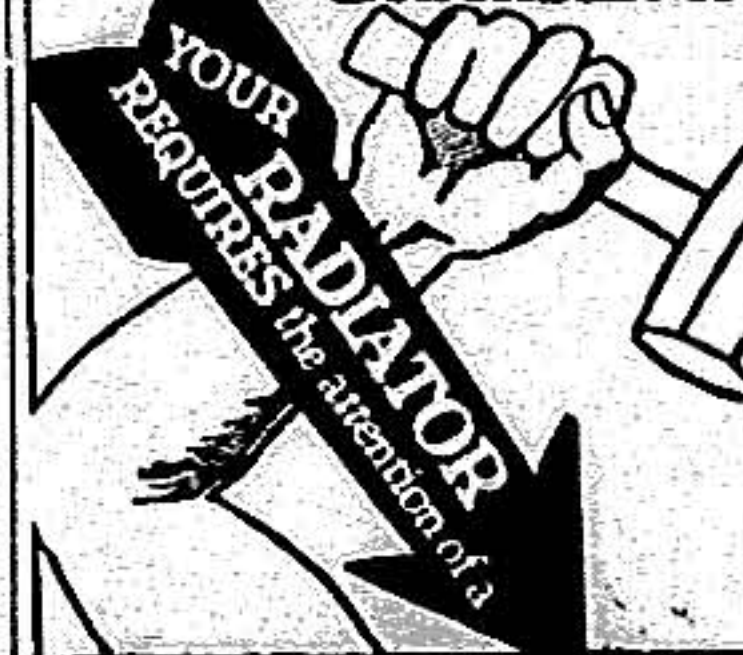

All the Leafs had a hand in the stick work that slaughtered the Chiefs. Ralph Bray, Brent Macnab, Brian Orton, Jack Gunn and Bill Daly were particularly active swingers. Colin Stevens paced the Chief's attack with a pair of safeties.

Merchants Open With Win

Cliff Chapman's Queen City Merchants and Dick Ferguson's Rockets were sparring partners in the Aurora Town softball league opener Thursday.

The Merchants were hit hard and sewed up the game almost before the Rockets realized the season was officially underway. Chapman's power-packed swing corps raised a seven-run blister in the first innings and heaped further embarrassment on the embattled Rockets with four more in the fourth to sweep to a 14-4 victory.

Home runs were at bargain basement rates. Grant "Leroy" Winters, Harry "Basher" Sutton, Andy "Junior" Closs and Eric "Zero" Smith slammed long four baggers.

Dave Richardson and Roy Allen dug in solidly at the plate to provide the long ball hitting for the defused Rockets. Andy Closs got a razor sharp pitching victory on the record books. Rockets' Dave Richardson was tabbed with the loss.

For Gibson's Pitching

The South Simcoe Baseball League can be put on its ear by a good southpaw. That was one remark we heard around the South Simcoe Baseball League's annual organization meeting. Hack Cain, Ted Robinson, Geo. Hudson and company should be off to the races in that case, judging from last Friday's southpaw servings by Ivan Gibson. Gibby came up with a well pitched four-hitter - and would have had a shut-out except for an error.

Such fine pitching warrants attention, particularly as it won the Redmen their first home victory. Therefore this week it's a pleasure to name Ivan Gibson - and we hope there's more of same up his talented left sleeve - for the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass.

South Deep In Gloom

Robust scoring started the Lake Simcoe Softball whirl away. They're singing the blues in the south already. Vandorf and Pine Orchard have been socked twice. Keswick, erupting for 18 first innings runs slaughtered Vandorf 26-1. Larrupin Kenzie Hodgins five, Ron Rowe four, Tom Hare, Harold Smith and Eddie Chadwick three each led Keswick's mighty 18-hit effort.

Harold Judd Smith spun a no hitter over five frames. Relief Bill Henry was nicked for both Vandorf bingles, Bill Kingston and Jack Baber pulling them out of the hat in the sixth to erase the shut-out shame.

Zephyr Blues stunned Vandorf 14-2 Tuesday. Bill Thornloe, Blues' newest flinger, worked three with Ron Kester completing the game. Dorfers nailed a hit off each from Bill Kingston. Pete Gerwinski, Blues' latest find, banged away for three hits including a round tripper, Ron Kester and Bud Drolet were in on the kill with three base-knocks each.

Pine Orchard ran into two packs of trouble. Zephyr thumped them 13-7. Ken Pickering three, Ches Lunney triple and double, Harry Howse and Bill Lockie with a pair of solid socks paced the Blues' fireworks. Howie Ash three for four, and Andy Lloyd, two for four, dished up Pine Orchard hitting. On Monday, Mount Albert with Ken Mitchell on the beam and the Mountie swingers lending strong batting support slapped a 13-2 handiicap on the Orchardmen. Bud Preston toiled three, Ted Tidman and Ronnie Stiekwood, two each in an endeavour to stay the Mountie power swingers.

Ken "Red" Mitchell is back. Mitch came up with a near no-hitter as Mount Albert opened at home with a resounding 14-1 win over Willow Beach. All the Mounties were hotter than Roy Rogers' pistols at the plate, whacking everything Beach veteran Cec McNeill had to offer. Bob Badger came up with an outstanding catching job for the Mounties.

Keswick glamour gang of Simcoe loop, hit for four second innings runs to spill Queensville 8-3 Tuesday. Harold Smith set the potent clubbing Queensville side down on four hits. Eddie Chadwick, homer and triple, Ron Rowe, two hits, and Harold Smith, two hits, were Keswick's big guns. Bob English headed the Queensville long ball hitting with a triple and Lon Canton backed up his nine hit pitching with a double.

Bantams Lead Loop

Newmarket Optimists proved their Saturday afternoon exhibition win here over Bill Mundell's bantams wasn't done with mirrors by striding into Aurora Town Park Monday to take down a 7-4 decision in a North York bantam baseball league attraction. The win, Newmarket's third, set them solidly in the league's top drawer.

A five-run second frame explosion after the Mundellers had hit for two first innings runs was Newmarket's big stake in the victory. Jack Cain toiling five and Don Thoms' two shared the pitching victory. Up and coming lefty Brooks went the route on the Aurora hill and given solid fielding support might have upset the Optimists.

Lorne Babcock, Don Zogala, Pat Ewing and Charlie McGuire were the Optimists' heavy sluggers. Alan Childs, Dave Fines and Jerry Doyle provided Aurora's stick work.

St. Andrew's Takes Track Honours

St. Andrew's College, noted for its prowess in rugby, hockey, basketball and cricket, won track and field recognition across the dominion on Saturday as their two-man team of John Ramsell and Bill Graham captured the junior team title from the best in Canadian scholastic competition. Ramsell, who is 15 and Graham who is 16 were not at their best, but were still good enough to amass enough points to bring home the team trophy.

Ramsell won first in the short put and discus, second in the 80 yard, low hurdles, and third in the hop-step-and-jump. Graham didn't get a first but he took seconds in the 100 yd. dash, and discus throw, and was third in the 400 yd. sprint. Both boys are surefire Olympic prospects a few years from now. A bow is in order to coaches Hap, Holmes and Holly Kentall for their efforts with the duo.

The red and white have several other athletes just off the pace of Ramsell and Graham. In addition to the success of the track and field boys, the Ardians completed a perfect weekend by battling out a win at cricket over Upper Canada and thereby put themselves back in the contention for the Little Big Four championship.

Baseball Hinges: Baseball seems headed for its best season in many years, with action in most series on many scattered fronts. Up north, the big intermediate loop of Midland, Barrie, Penetang, Orillia, Creemore and Collingwood looks exceptionally strong and well balanced. Herb Beachamp and Herb Parker of Midland have gone out and got themselves some players this year, including Gordy Dymond, ex-Pony League pitcher, and Gordy Fitzhenry, Varsity hockeyist, behind the plate. Barrie led by Gil Robertson, formerly of London Majors, has a local crew headed by Jimmy Strachan, the well known neptinder, and featuring Doug Plunkett, former ace of the Peterborough Petes mound staff.

Moving over to Collingwood, we find the ball club reads like the hockey line-up, Frank Duce (c), Len Cook and Charlie Fryer (p), Pete Switzer (1b), Jim Barrett (2b), Al Walmsley (3b), Barney Walmsley (ss), Robbie Fryer, Bob Meek, and Steve Weyniss in the outfield. The big South Simcoe loop, suffering from growing pains, will enjoy a terrific season. In the north sector we favor Ivy and Stroud as the teams to beat. In the south it looks like Everett Leafs and Newmarket as the Sutton Green Sox looks like the club to beat in the Tri-Country west section, as Stouffville and Sunderland have both lost players. George Holborn is regarded as the top pitcher of the entire league, while in Ronnie Rowe and Johnny Lenard the club has two outstanding performers.

Bob Hassard, Pittsburgh hockeyist, heads the Stouffville club, and with Earl Cook retired, the mound staff consists of Lorne Howday and Ken Wagg. Derek Chadwick is behind the plate for his first season and the infield has Ken Schell, Bud Lechman, Bob Hassard, Les Clarke, Lou Raxlin and Murray McMullen ready to go. Ted Cadieux, Wall, Smith, Jack Cote, Lloyd Jennings and Ken Laushway supply the fly-shagging department with plenty of material and good throw.

When Bradford visits Newmarket it will be like a revival of the hockey wars. Ev Stevens and Ken Tupling, both ex-Newmarket players, are on the team while Lloyd Giffen, who shares the hurling with Tupling, and Ed McEvoy also did some puck-chasing with carntown clubs. Carson (c), Bus, Carter (2b), and Art Evans (u) in the older class have been in the forefront of Celerytown sports the past decade. Coach Shorty Turan will come in for some attention from the fans. Two brothers, Bob and Don Falls, will rival the Gibson and Thoms combination featured by the Cain clan. Jack Edney, Bill Boddington, Jack Cook are some of the other players.

Service clubs in Aurora are really pitching in this year for the kids. Legion, led by Ray White and Doug Clarke, is behind the midgets. Rotary has the bantams, and Lions the Pee-Wees. No need to comment on the great job being done by Optimists at Newmarket on all sports fronts. It's the same story at Woodbridge (Legion), Schomberg (Lions), Keswick (Optimists), and at Barrie, after having complete control of the minor hockey picture, the Barrie Legion has taken over the complete control of minor baseball.

At Bradford the intermediate lacrosse club is supplying sticks for a kids league while Bradford Lions are getting behind the effort well. Today's youngsters certainly have things spoon-fed for them as compared to yesterday, but it's all to the merrier so far as we're concerned.

Softball slings: Dot Miller, who hurled Barrie to a win over Newmarket Ladies, is the only pitcher the irrepressible Doug

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

The more critical clients of yours truly were after our scalp last week. Seems they thought we shouldn't have tried to get baseball rolling again, said it was spoiling the town softball league! Tut, tut!

If there's anyone in the Hub who has done more to foster town league sports, hockey and softball, step up brother, step up! Each town league team is supposed to have 15 or 18 signed players. We'll say 15 to be on the safe side. So one night a week hariballers go away and Hoffman loses one player, ditto Thompson-Bell, Specialty loses three, Cycles, lose four. If any team can't field a team with what's left, that is if they want to use the rest of their players, then there's something wrong with the coaching and managing. It isn't the fault of the baseballers. Their argument doesn't hold water with us. After all, every team in the town league is in the play-offs and to our knowledge play-off arrangements haven't even been set up as yet.

Why not use all the players signed. Isn't the idea of a town league to give everyone wishing to play ball an opportunity to get on the diamond and do his stuff?

As to the other argument, that we had Pine Orchard playing the same night as the town league, it hardly rates attention. Yes, we made up the Lake Simcoe schedule; also the Junior Ladies. North York bantam and midget and have a request at hand to complete the junior men's Lake Simcoe League schedule. It's unfortunate that it worked out that Pine Orchard plays the same time as the Sports-Cycles, but as Pine Orchard o.k.'ed Monday for home games, there was nothing else we could do about it.

Surprising thing to us is that more fans aren't turning out for the town league games—they've been good—and the extra fine contests warrant the fans' attention.

Lead Given By Aurora On Liquor And Beer Outlets Vital To Other Districts

Aurora has given a lead to other municipalities in North York concerning liquor and beer stores and our feeling is that it will prove a very calming one. When the proposition was suddenly sprung on our citizens, like a bolt from the blue, it was claimed that some adjacent municipalities were attempting to "jump the gun".

One municipality that the Aurora outlet sponsors had in mind was Newmarket. They tried to use our very friendly neighbor-town as a sort of "bogie man" to scare Aurora into thinking that it was a question of first come, first served, so that whichever of the two towns first got the outlets would settle the matter.

The outlet sponsors tried to work up a feeling that Newmarket was trying to "pull a fast one" on Aurora, and that no time was to be lost in getting the stores going here. These rush tactics not only did not succeed but they were helpful in defeating the objective aimed at.

A Testing Ground
Aurora was a testing ground. Had a majority of the people here voted for the outlets there is no knowing where the limit would have been struck. A Newmarket business man told us many weeks ago that he was sure there was no wish to have the outlets there. But he added this: "If you people in Aurora were to vote for them, which I hope you won't, the whole picture could be altered overnight."

The answer that the majority of the citizens of Aurora have so wisely given to this controversial question has, we are certain, saved this area of North York county from the opening of stores. We believe we are likely to have peace in this area on this contentious question for some years to come.

Government Ownership
There are two paragraphs in a letter sent out on Monday, May 20, the eve of the outlets vote, by the rector of Trinity Anglican church, the Rev. K. D. Wharmouth, which deserve very close attention.

The first reads: "Our province makes the error of leaving this business—so dangerous to many, both young and old—largely in the hands of a large private enterprise. In Sweden it is better, for there the government owns the business throughout."

The second sentence states: "We need a better solution than that now being offered to us by the brewing profiteers. We could properly vote for the ownership of the business, from start to finish, by the government; with no advertising at all; and with only one means of access, namely, through direct home delivery, so that no one could possess it outside the home. I would vote for complete government operation. I would not vote for what is simply the brewers' solution to a very big matter. Their suggestions can be very dangerous, for they have only one aim—more profits."

Government ownership of the liquor and beer interests has been debated in the Old Country for as long as we can remember. But there have been so many members of the House of Lords who were rich brewers prior to their elevation to the peerage that the question never got very far.

Ownership of the business by the government would mean that profits from it would come back to the people instead of going into the pockets of a few private individuals.

Incidentally, we have heard many favorable comments on the various arguments put forward by the rector of Trinity during the recent campaign. He has pleased a great many people by his logical, broadminded approach to the question of the outlets. Out of these debates one man has certainly emerged with a greatly increased stature as a leader, and that man is Mr. Wharmouth.

He approached all the questions from a practical not a partisan attitude and in so doing his messages carried weight. A modest man, we know Mr. Wharmouth as a very able, shrewd, and highly intelligent clergyman and citizen. In a tough spot he is the sort of man we would like to have on our side.

And with these comments we will close down on the subject which has been uppermost in the minds of citizens for nearly three months. We frankly confess to a sense of relief that the arguments are ended.

Season Opens
The Aurora Lawn Bowling club officially opened its season on Wednesday evening, May 28, with a good turnout of members.

Morris, extended his best wishes to old and new members and hoped the club would enjoy a successful season.

Councillor Ralph Tucker, on behalf of the Mayor and members of council, extended wishes for a good bowling season and was supported in his remarks by Councillor Dale King, who said he wished it had been possible for him to join the club this year.

Councillor Cliff Corbett, chairman of the property committee, came on the scene after the speech-making was over, but gave his good wishes to members privately.

The Parks board has added to the amenities of the club's grounds by having 16 fine-looking spruce trees planted in former vacant spaces. These additions have greatly improved the appearance of the grounds, which Mr. Tucker truly described as a "beautiful setting."

The Green Light
For many long years a sign has hung on Main street which read: "J. F. Willis, Soda Bar." The other day we noticed men at work on ladders. They were installing a new neon sign on the Willis store and it read: "Rexall Drugs." It is an artistic addition to the advertising varieties seen on Main street. The lettering and the body of the sign are a vivid green, encircled by a broad orange-colored border.

Lions Carnival
The Aurora Lions club carnival and fireworks display, which were held over from May 24 to Friday night, May 30, because of bad weather, proved a great success, very large crowds of children and adults being present to enjoy the fun.

King City sent over a wrestling club whose exposition proved a very attractive feature, and besides the fireworks there were races for boys and girls, bingo and refreshments.

President-elect, W. MacGirr, was in charge of the arrangements, with Lion Ralph Tucker supervising the arrangements for the children. They both informed Aurora News Page that the event, though postponed, had exceeded expectations in the numbers present.

The lucky draw winners were Mrs. A. Murray, 1580 Davenport Road, Toronto, whose ticket numbered 1653 won a clock radio, while Barry Proctor of Aurora, with ticket number 476, won the electric kettle offered as second prize.

New Canadian Club
We are advised that the next meeting of the New Canadian club will be held at Benny's Alloys on Thursday, June 5 when it is hoped a large number of members will be present.

Fire on Kennedy St.
The Aurora fire brigade was called into action around nine o'clock Saturday night when the home of Mr. J. S. Margeson, 21 Kennedy west, caught fire in the basement. When the fire was extinguished it was found that considerable smoke damage had been caused throughout the home.

Old-Timer's Letter
We received the other day the following from a former resident of Aurora:
"A friend took the trouble to send me a rather ambitious issue of the Aurora Banner of November 15, purporting to tell of the past, present and future of those dear hearts and lovely people that lived in my home town" to quote the well-known song. The present and future may be "all to the merry" but their past, outside of eulogizing the Banner, leaves much to be said.

"As I lived there in the seventies and eighties I wonder why good old Dick Wells of the Queen's Hotel, the Lemon, the Waite and Button Hotels also, should have been slighted. Our department stores by Faughner and Whimster; the elite on 'Nob Hill'; Fleury's, Hilarys and Robinsons; the industrial plants of the Wilkinsons and Fleury's; Doan and Patterson drug stores; The Borealis (which in those days rather looked down its nose at the Banner); Stevenson's harness shop, old 'G. L.' in those days owned a goodly section of Aurora; C. C. Robinson, whose fame spread far and wide; Thompson, principal of the school; Petch, who was town marshal and ran most all the town's utilities; McNally, McLeod, Baldwin, Daville, Quericie, 'I could go on at length, but do want to remember good old Aunt Nancy Webb. A close perusal of the paper would lead one to believe the town was built by S. H. and Charlie, and I presume the editorial reference of 'one striking exception' in the quality of their editorial staff must really mean one J. G. Sinclair. Cheer up, J. G., there must be some few of us old-timers left that remember history."

THE VOTE

Our "deadline" left us no time for comment last week on the decisive vote on the liquor and beer stores proposed for Aurora. And now that we have the time it is not our intention to indulge in any flag-waving. A majority of the people took the same view of the proposals as this newspaper and quite naturally we were happy over the vote.

As we mentioned in this column last week, had the vote gone the other way we would have raised no clamor over it. We know many excellent citizens who, for their own reasons did not share our views. They are just as much entitled to their opinions as their opposites. This is a democratic country in which the will of the majority prevails in conformity with established safeguards.

Over a period of many weeks we stated our own views and there is now no reason for repeating them. Some reflections after the event are inevitable and one of them is that the proposals were given a plentiful airing on both sides of the fence. No one can say that their opposing point of view was not thoroughly emphasized through the medium of advertising and leaflet. It was a most intensive campaign.

It was also, with one outstanding exception, a cleanly-fought campaign. There was no outward excitement from first to last. As far as the citizens were concerned it was a model campaign. We heard no hard words spoken by anyone. The record vote proves that the citizens did take the proposals very seriously but their deportment was a splendid example of how a campaign should be conducted.

Naturally we were glad to have this further confirmation that Aurora News Page is the authentic voice of the majority of the citizens of Aurora.

THE ARENA

Some people who do not like us may already be saying that we have harmed the town by publishing last week's article on the condition of the arena. Whatever we wrote would not please some people. Even if we set out to praise them they would still find fault with us for under-stating their natural and acquired qualifications.

Far from harming future attendances at the arena, if those responsible for its management will immediately take steps to do a necessary job of repair, public confidence would be restored. It would give us very great pleasure to publicize the fact that "work was in progress" at the arena. When such work was completed we would gladly publicize that fact also. For every critical word we have written we would write an equal number of congratulatory ones.

There is the whole of the summer to get the work done. When the season opens again on October 1 it would prove a great boost to the arena to announce that it had been fixed and renovated and made attractive. All such possibilities rest with the arena board. That the work is urgently needed to be done has been confirmed by Councillor Corbett, who is chairman of the property committee, and by Councillor Murray who is a member of the arena board.

As for our own part in this matter it amounts to no more than informing the citizens of the outcome of a personal inspection of the arena. We explained the situation as we found it. A local newspaper has a duty to the citizens of keeping them informed on local affairs.

We believe the Aurora Memorial Arena could be made a centre of great local attraction and if the Arena board will do its obvious part in helping to bring this about, this newspaper will give it its fullest support.

THE "QUACK" EDITOR

The series of articles we had prepared on the growth of the free press was interrupted by more pressing local events and only two of them were published. One of the outstanding exponents in the cause of a free press was William Hazlitt (1778-1830), who classified some editors as follows: "Some editors are scrubs, mere drudges, newspapers' puffs; others are bullies or quacks; others are nothing at all; they have the name and receive a salary for it."

Hazlitt was a painter, an art critic, essayist, and a contributor to the leading British journals and newspapers of his time. He was a critical and contentious writer, possessed of a wealth of knowledge, mental energy, and a healthy loathing for all forms of sycophancy and hypocrisy. In an age of great writing he attained great fame and his place among the foremost prose writers is secure.

The "quack" editor was his especial irritant. The "quack" editor adopts many poses but seldom states a positive opinion. He hunts with the hounds and runs with the hare. He gives no lead to his readers but when they have decided an issue he sidles along with the majority, usually in the form of bold approving headlines. His specialty is highly-colored nervy "news" contained in scrappy paragraphs. His concern is not with principles but with expediency.

In Aesop's Fables there is the story of a frog that became so inflated with a sense of its own importance that it swelled and swelled until it finally burst and was seen no more. That is the common fate of the "quack" editor who was anathema to Hazlitt.

COUNCIL REPORT

5 To 3 Favour Dog Control Through NY Humane Society Go Ahead Water And Sewers

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, June 2, with Mayor Rose and all members present. Outstanding features of the session was a decision by council on dog control; instructions concerning the engineer's plans, previously reported; and a discussion on the arena, a report of which is given in other columns.

Among the correspondence received was a letter from Mr. W. A. M. Cody thanking the mayor and members of council for their gracious action in sending a wreath on the occasion of the lamented death of Mrs. Cody.

A representation was made by Mr. E. Cole on the unfinished state of the sidewalk adjoining his property. Deputy-Reeve Murray said that Mr. Cole was no worse off in regard to his grievance than 100 other people in town, but his committee would see what could be done.

Dog Control

Mrs. Thelma Fielding and Col. Dann appeared on behalf of the North York Humane society in connection with the protection of and control of dogs. A long discussion, which took up over an hour of council's time, followed.

Mrs. Fielding outlined the problem of dog control under the auspices of the society, pointing out that the Newmarket town council had accepted the plan. Mrs. Fielding distributed copies of the Era and Express of May 22 issue among members of council, which contained a front-page report of what had been done in Newmarket to effect animal protection and control.

Col. Dann, in the course of answering many questions, said that for many years he had heard complaints of stray dogs, but he knew of nothing that had been done about the matter. He said that no one got one cent out of the plan except the trained man employed by the society. Col. Dann paid tribute to Newmarket ladies who were giving their time to the work of the Humane society.

Methods Explained

Mrs. Fielding said that Newmarket town council had paid over to the society the sum of $2,000 plus the dog tax for the current year. If Aurora adopted the plan it would cost the town $1,500 plus the dog tax, amounting to $674. The contract would be for two years and only the dog tax would require to be paid in the second year.

Col. Dann said the land at Newmarket, used by the society, had been practically given to the North York Humane society. They were covering a control area of a ten mile radius. The facilities offered by the society would solve the stray dog problem in Aurora.

Ask if the matter could be held over for further consideration, Mrs. Fielding replied that it would be necessary for a decision to be made that night, otherwise the plan would have to be held over for another year.

Points of View

Mayor Rose said that a centre had to be somewhere, and it so happened that the centre for this area was Newmarket, where the plan had been put into operation for animal control. Stray dogs wandering over other people's property had been a problem for Aurora for many years. He believed they should adopt the plan offered, and once it was publicized he had no doubt that owners would in future look after their animals.

Deputy-Reeve Murray moved and Councillor King seconded a motion approving the plan.

Reeve Cook and Councillors Davis and Murray declared themselves opposed to the plan, mainly on the grounds of the costs.

Councillor King asked what use it was to advertise the enforcement of a by-law for the control of dogs if they took no steps about it? He believed that the plan offered by the society was the answer to the dog problem in Aurora.

Deputy-Reeve Murray said that the question of wandering dogs in the town came up year by year, and nothing had been done about it.

Councillor Murray said that it was against the rule of council to pass a contentious by-law at one sitting.

Deputy-Reeve Murray said they could give a final decision that night and arrange for the preparing of the by-law.

Councillor Tucker said that they should be able to make up their minds that night. A by-law must have teeth in it, and they hadn't yet done anything to enforce their present by-law. Mayor Rose said that that was true in his eight year's experience.

Reeve Cook asserted that they were acting in too much of a hurry. He was in favor of delaying the matter for another year in view of the heavy costs.

Councillor Jones said that every by-law was subject to abuse. He believed that the plan now proposed for control of stray dogs was an opportunity to give security to citizens. He would support the plan.

The mayor then called for a vote on the motion and it was approved. Those voting in favor of the motion were: Deputy-Reeve Murray and Councillors Corbett, Jones, King and Tucker. Opposed: Reeve Cook, Councillors Davis and Murray.

Rent or Sell?
Chairman of the property committee, Councillor Corbett, asked if council had made up its mind whether it was going to sell the municipal offices or rent the rooms recently vacated by the provincial police? If they were going to rent, then he would see that necessary decoration was carried out.

Councillor Tucker moved that they decorate the rooms and advertise them for rent. This motion was seconded by Councillor Davis and carried.

Council agreed that the space should be rented for office use only.

Water Question, Sewers

Mayor Rose said that their engineer, Mr. Redfern, had advised that he hoped to have plans and specifications ready in two weeks' time for the preparation of by-laws.

Reeve Cook said that he was not aware that council had come to a final decision to put in a reservoir. His understanding was that the whole problem would be discussed in detail in committee and in council. "Are we going to land up with a reservoir and no greater water pressure?" the revee asked.

Councillor Jones said they would get better results by the use of a compressor. He was in favor of a reservoir.

Councillor Davis asked if a reservoir would solve the needs of any new industries that might come to Aurora?

Councillor Murray said they needed a reserve right now. Mayor Rose said he considered it an appropriate moment to go ahead with plans for a reservoir and to instruct Mr. Redfern accordingly.

A motion to install a compressor and reservoir was carried. It was also agreed to proceed with the new trunk sewer, storm and sanitary sewers as previously reported.

Sunday Night Order

Councillor King drew the attention of the chairman of the sanitation committee to a Sunday night smell which, Mr. King asserted, hung over the town sometime between the hours of 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. The suggestion that this might be a tannery odor was discounted.

Other members of council said they had experienced the smell, which was bad town advertisement.

Councillor Davis said he could not imagine where the smell came from and wasn't aware of it. He suggested that the next time Mr. King's nose was affected by the smell he should call him by phone, when they could meet and try and track the smell down to its source. Council adjourned at 11:45 p.m.

King Township Briefs

A report from York County Hospital shows that King township residents had 845 private and semi-private patient days in the hospital from 1950-51, and part of 1952, 582 ward, 570 infants and 170 indigent patient days.

The report said that the hospital has an approximate loss of $3,505.19 to King twp. but it did not indicate over what period of time the loss accumulated. There is an average loss of $1.30 per patient per day on all patients.

The township is responsible for its indigent patient hospital expenses, Reeve Elton Armstrong stated. "We have an agreement to that effect but we do not have an agreement to pay accumulative loss. I do not know when the township deficit commenced. I asked the board in April when the hospital deficit of $60,000 began and I got no answer," he stated. "The deficit problem should be brought up at the June sessions of county council when we can do something for all these hospitals," he said.

Schomberg fire department answered six calls from Dec. 12, 1951 to May 31, 1952, which have cost the township $260. Aurora fire department charged $220 for fire protection during the month of May.

Mount Pisgah News

The Mount Pisgah W. A. will hold their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Modie in Aurora on Wednesday, June 11. Roll call is to name a talent we admire in another person. Mrs.
George Boynton will give the devotional. The program is in charge of Mrs. Loy Carr and the hostess is Mrs. Roy Howlett.

The ladies of the W.A. are planning a garden party for Friday evening, June 27. It will be held in the church. Please keep this date in mind.

There will be an afternoon
tea at the home of Mrs. S. C.
Snively, Glenolney Farm, on Friday, June 13. It will be for the Newmarket Hospital Aid and tickets are one dollar.

On Thursday evening of last week the neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ern. Harvey tendered them a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
George Barrett. There were about 50 guests on hands. A program consisted of piano selections by Miss Betty Sproston and Miss Joan Barrett; a duet by Mrs. Fred Wilson and Helen;
a sing-song led by Mrs. B. Kays and accompanied by Mrs. Allan Doner and several selections on the violin by Mr. Meredith Ash accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Stiles.

A presentation of an electric iron and toaster and a cup and saucer was made to the Harveys, as well as a leather wallet to Bruce. They thanked everyone very fittingly and a social hour followed. Mr. Alvin Farmer was the chairman. Mr. and Mrs.
Harvey moved to their new home in Newmarket on Saturday, May 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Lehman have purchased the former Harvey home and will move in after some renovating is done.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Bearsto spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Edwards and family in Peterborough.

Mrs. C. A. Montgomery was a weekend visitor of her son
George and family in Toronto.
Miss May Howlett spent the weekend with her brother Roy and Mrs. Howlett. They all had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Eade and family of Vandorf.

A Ferguson and Smith family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Scott on Sunday. There were 37 guests and included the following families: Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith and family, Ravenshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ferguson, Ringwood;
Mr. and Mrs. Doug Ferguson and family, Sandford; Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith and family; Mr. Herb Smith; Mr. Ross
Smith and Miss Violet Robinson,
Temperanceville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deyenport, Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ash and family on Saturday of last week.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker on the arrival of their son at Newmarket hospital, Saturday, May 31. Mother and baby are fine.

Church service for the months of June, July and August at Mount Pisgah United church will be at 10 a.m. with Sunday school at 11 a.m.

The Home and School Association met in S.S. No. 6 on Friday evening, May 30. Convenors' reports were given and a piano was donated to S.S. No. 6. Scholarships were presented to Miss Isabel Chambers of S.S. No. 7 and to Mr. Neil Rose of S.S. No. 6.
The annual election of officers took place and we will publish this list at a later date.

Snowball News

Miss Bernice Copson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Cop-son, graduates with honors from Victoria College on Wednesday, June 4. Congratulations on such a worthy achievement. Snowball should be proud to have one of their young girls enter a field of good work. Bernice will spend the summer in Napanee doing child welfare work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Graham of Aurora, Mrs. Mary Cunningham of Toronto, had Monday night supper with Mrs. Wm. Farren Sr.

Mrs. F. Davison and daughter, Mrs. Walter Slyin of England, are spending the summer with
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davison and Sheila. It has been 25 years since Mr. Davison has seen his mother and sister.

Susan Blum brought a first prize ribbon from Clairville horse show on Saturday, riding
Miss Marilyn Hawman's pony "Teddy". Congratulations, Susan.

Thirty-one ladies of the vicinity were entertained at Mrs. H.
Patrick's home last Monday evening. Mrs. Morgan of Aurora demonstrated nylon Tupperware. She conducted three games of bingo which were won by Mrs. Lloyd Fowler, Mrs.
Clifton Copson and Mrs. Howard Morning. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Temperanceville

On Saturday, May 31, the Achievement Day of the Homemakers' clubs of the districts was held in the town hall, Newmarket. Members of the club of Temperanceville, Misses Isabel Marshinter, Florrie and Ruth Beynon, Edna Christensen and Irene Mashinter, were all present to take part in the judging and giving reasons on "Cottons may be smart" during the morning session. Unfortunately, Miss Barbara Herrima, an employee of the Bank of Montreal, Aurore, was unable to be present.

Each of these girls received their silver spoon for completing the project and Miss Isabel Mashinter received her certificate for the completion of four units

CONDITIONS AT ARENA

Mayor Rose Launches Attack On Bad Conditions At Arena Defends Corbett And Murray

Highlighting the close of business at Monday night's meeting of the town council was a vigorouslyworded condemnation by Mayor Rose of the recent criticism of Councillors Corbett and Murray concerning their statements about the Arena, together with his description of conditions there as "desperate".

Councillor Jim Murray rose to state that he was anxious to know what steps were likely to be taken to put the arena in shape? He said he had brought up the condition of the arena as far back as February, but the arena board had so far made no plans.

Mr. Murray said he doubted whether members of council themselves knew the condition of the arena and he suggested that they should make a personal inspection of it. He wanted to see the place put in shape so that activities could begin promptly on October 1. His one wish was to get action.

Councillor Murray said he wanted to see the rink get started by October 1. If the place should collapse the board would have to come to council for the necessary money.

Councillor Tucker said it was the intention of the board to come to council with a report and none should know that better than Mr. Murray, who was a member of the board.

Mayor Rose said he had asked
the chairman of the board, Mr.
Underhill, if he were ready to come to council and was told that he was "not ready yet".

"This is now June 2 and the board still has no plans yet," the mayor said. "Unless there's some plans and some repairs done soon there'll be no seats left," adding that the board is responsible.

Concluding his comments,
Mayor Rose repeated his statement, that "not one word of what Councillor Jim Murray had said could be denied."

Meeting With Board
Deputy-Reeve Murray said that he considered Councillor Murray had made a good point in suggesting that members of council should go to the arena and inspect it in daylight.

It was agreed that members of council should visit the arena on Monday night, June 3, at 7 p.m., and afterwards meet with the arena board at 8 p.m., at the municipal offices, to discuss the problems involved.

A tremendous attack had been made on Councillor Murray, said the mayor, by certain members of the board, and not one word of such criticism was true. "Not one single word of what Mr.
Murray said can be denied,"
Mayor Rose vehemently asserted.

Councillor Davis interjected the remark that he didn't think that members of the arena board should be criticized in their absence, adding that he believed they were doing their best.

Floors Like "Pressed Sand" Mayor Rose said that it had been alleged that Mr. Murray had criticized the arena manager, Mr. Perryment. "Mr. Murray had never criticized the arena manager in his hearing," the mayor said.

Proceeding to describe his personal inspection of the arena, the mayor said it was necessary to see the place in the daylight to know what it looked like. He approved of Mr. Murray's suggestion that members of council who had not inspected the place should go there in the daytime and look it over.

"The new part of the building was serious. There were cracks in the walls large enough to put one's fingers through," said the mayor. "As for the new floors, they were 'terrible.' They had not been properly finished and resembled pressed sand. 'You can sweep and sweep away at them and never get them clean.
All that happens when you sweep them are clouds and clouds of dust.'"

"Is that all we have got for all the money we have spent on the place?" observed Councillor Davis.

Deputy-Reeve Murray said
the "whole trouble had been caused by too little money having been spent on the place. A basic reason for the trouble, he said, was the fact that the board had not been able to face up to the work. The front part, said Deputy-Reeve Murray, was done in too much of a hurry."

"Not Ready Yet"
Mayor Rose said he had asked
the chairman of the board, Mr.
Underhill, if he were ready to come to council and was told
that he was "not ready yet".

Daily Columnist Writes About Weekly Press

By Bruce West in the Globe and Mail, Toronto

While sitting reading the Huntsville Forester the other day, it occurred to me how vastly important was the weekly newspaper in the national scheme of things. And what a powerful voice is represented by the combined efforts of these hundreds of small community papers spread across the length and breadth of the land.

Every now and then, on the metropolitan dailies, some of us get illusions of grandeur. We see our giant presses rumbling out hundreds of thousands of copies of our papers, see the teletypes and the telegraphs chattering madly, the big trucks tearing off to all points of the compass, hear the newsboys shouting on the streets.

And the mammoth size of the operation sometimes dazzles us into the idea that we're fairly large potatoes in the journalistic world. In a sense, I suppose, the size and circulation of a newspaper is important. But I often wonder whether our very size is not a handicap, occasionally, in getting close to the people we serve and those feelings we are supposed to reflect accurately.

The best newspaper brains on the largest dailies in the United States, for instance, wrote off Harry Truman with great assurance before the last U.S. elections. But Harry proved they were wrong. If they had been reflecting accurately the mood of their country, they would have been right.

I don't know, but it seems to me that you wouldn't catch a weekly newspaper editor being wrong very often about the winner of an election in his community. And it strikes me that it's more important to be right about a few people than wrong about a lot of people.

The weekly newspaper editor usually has time to light up his pipe, stretch out his feet and have a talk with the subscribers. It's not a daily newspaper editor's fault that he can't do this. A big daily has a way of chawing ravenously at his time. But in the case of the weekly editor, he may often, in one day, exchange opinions with a farmer, a welder, the mayor, a housewife and the president of the town's largest industry.

These exchanges of thought need, by no means, be formal. The chances are, if the editor has been in his chair for some time, that he recognized the birth, high school graduation and marriage of one or all of these subscribers. In which case Subscriber William Jones becomes merely Tom Jones' boy. And an editor who might be fooled a bit concerning the attitude of William Jones is not likely to be misled very far by Tom Jones' boy.

Out of this intimate and friendly relationship there must surely grow that most magic of all journalistic ingredients, sometimes called the ability to "keep a finger on the public pulse." If this bond has been well and truly forged, no newspaper can fail to be important, even though its entire list of subscribers could be mustered in a small community hall.

All of us go through life, to some extent, trying to make our lone, small voices heard 'midst the clamor of the multitude which sounds all around us. Whenever some publication is close enough to us to reflect our thoughts and the things we want to say, we feel that we have become articulate and our loneliness is alleviated in some degree.

In this respect the weekly editor occupies a golden chair, a chair of great dignity and great responsibility. He has been given the opportunity of acting as the voice and, in many ways, the conscience, of the place in which he lives. And this small town or village, multiplied, is Canada.

The golden chair, of course, is not without its lumps. It is a little difficult to throw the book at a local political candidate and then be confronted with his injured and reproachful countenance the very next day, or even on the same day. In the case of the weekly newspaper, the so-called man on the street can cease being one by merely taking a half dozen steps into the editor's office.

Not only that, but the weekly editor may have to interrupt his written discourse on the complicated world situation to help a customer compose a classified ad offering a washing machine for sale. This may be awkward at times, but I can't help thinking it is educational. Sometimes the problem of the lady who wants to sell her washing machine can bring the world situation into a little clearer perspective. Such incidents can serve as a sort of decompression chamber for those who have been prowling around rather deeply in the world's affairs.

Perhaps the daily newspaper, trying to keep pace with the events of a fast moving world, is a victim of the atmosphere in which it serves. Readers who in a few short years may forget Stalin's first name are not likely to forget the day Aunt Maggie won the prize for the best cake at the fall fair. Or that Elmer Smith's hound trotted out the sidewalk one day and turned up three weeks later 30 miles away in Jackson's Junction.

And I'll be hanged if I can say for sure which is the more important. Stalin is getting a lot of publicity these days, but, for all I know, Elmer Smith may have had a pretty good hound.

Appoint Dog Catcher For Wilcox Area

Whitchurch township council engaged Jack Leary at its meeting last week to catch dogs at Wilcox Lake. Complaints over stray dogs running at large broke out with new violence at this township summer resort last week and several shootings brought police to the scene.

In an effort to get immediate relief, council appealed to the Newmarket branch of the Humane Society but they would not consider the job unless the entire township was included. The cost of such service was reported to be in the neighborhood of $6,000 and was considered by council to be far beyond necessity.

Mr. Leary, in taking the job of dog-catcher for a trial period of three weeks, asked that he be given police protection. Constable Mulholland agreed to accompany the dog-catcher and his helper while at work.

Mr. Leary will receive $5 for each dog caught and his assistant will be paid by the hour. He will provide the pound at lot 4, con. 6, and the truck.

The volunteer for this unpopular job told council that he had no idea how many dogs might be around the lake. Councillor McCarron told Mr. Leary that he had all the authority required in the township by-law covering the area.

It was noted that by actual count, 54 dogs were poisoned there last fall. However, since that time the council has been continually plagued with complaints of packs of roving canines upsetting garbage and being generally destructive.

OBITUARY Alan Crocker

On Monday, May 19, in Amaranth township, Shelburne, Alan Crocker, husband of Ida Ingram and father of Noel, Donald and Kenneth, passed away in his 63rd year.

A private family service was held on Thursday, May 22, followed by public service in St. Paul's Anglican church, Shelburne.

Interment in Shelburne cemetery with Canadian Legion honors.

Name Garbage Collector For Lakes District

Merlyn Preston was named garbage collector by by-law at the meeting of Whitchurch council, his route covering Musselman's Lake, Preston's Lake and Wilcox Lake. The total price for the three collections will be $2,800. For the Wilcox Lake collection he will receive $2,000, for Musselman's, $600, and for Preston's Lake $200.

Four tenders were received, highest being for a total coverage at $3,000. Mr. Preston resides on the sidewalk between the 7th and 8th concession and has been employed driving a gravel truck.

Tenders were also opened for a power weed spraying machine. Five bids were received, highest being $2,400. After some discussion the council agreed to inspect a couple of machines before making their final decision.

Beamish Construction Co. will supply approximately 25,000 gallons of road oil to the township this year at a price of 22.7c per gallon. Four tenders were received for the Whitchurch oil order, top figure being 23.5c per gallon.

Council by resolution agreed to pay a grant of $25 to the Canadian Institute for the Blind and the Salvation Army. "I've given this matter considerable thought," stated Councillor McCarron. "We give to fair and not to those who help the needy. Some of these organizations do more than our hospitals. It's a matter of a goodwill gesture to give them some small grant and encourage them," he continued. "I think we should give them a grant," stated Reeve McLaughlin.

"I'm sympathetic to the blind and the Salvation Army," said Councillor Legge.

MOUNT ZION

Mr. Jim Milton has been ill with pneumonia. We hope he will soon be well and around again.

There will be a young people's service in the church on Friday evening. Mrs. Elliott is in charge.

Sunday services are: Sunday school at 10 a.m., worship at 11 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Greenwood visited Mr. and Mrs. H. Cole on Sunday.

GUIDES, BROWNIES RALLY ON JUNE 7

The second annual rally for the guides and brownies of York Division will be held in Thornhill on Saturday, June 7, from 2 to 6 p.m. Newmarket guides and brownies will take part in the rally.

Transportation is being provided by the Guide Local association by chartered buses which will leave the bus terminal at 1 p.m. If it is raining at 11 a.m. on Saturday morning, the rally will be postponed until a later date. Each girl attending provides her own supper lunch. Drinks can be purchased at the rally. Guides and brownies will wear full uniform.

A program of games, sports and tests based on brownie and guide work will be climaxed with a campfire and sing-song. Girls from the guide companies and brownie packs throughout York County will be present.

W.M.S. TO MEET
The Evening auxiliary, W. M. S. Trinity United church, Newmarket, will meet in the school room on Tuesday, June 10, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. W. O. Noble will conduct the devotional service. Rev. Albert Doerger will be the guest speaker. Delegates to the spring rally will give their reports at this meeting. All ladies of the congregation are welcome.

MRS. R. HOLBROOKE
H. S. ASS'N PRESIDENT
Mrs. R. Holbrooke was elected president of the Newmarket Home and School association at the annual meeting on Tuesday, May 27. Mrs. Howard Morton, president, was in the chair. She presented a report on the year's activities.

H. A. Jackson, supervising principal, Newmarket public schools, presented a film and gave a very informative talk on the use of such films in the schools. Mr. Jackson was thanked on behalf of the group by Mrs. Fred Hagan.

The installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Mildred Toogood Unionville, a vice president of York Home and School council. Mrs. Toogood spoke on Home and School work. Mrs. Robert Morrison thanked Mrs. Toogood and later presented the retiring president, Mrs. Morton, with a bouquet of flowers.

Those elected to office include: past pres., Mrs. Howard Morton; pres., Mrs. Holbrooke; vice pres., Mrs. C. R. Holbrooke; corr. sec., Mrs. Reid Atkinson; rec. sec., Mrs. John Swindells; treas., Mrs. Kenneth Bennington; executive committee, Mrs. Fred Breckon, Mrs. J. B. Macnab, Mrs. Walter Johns, Mrs. R. B. # WEAVERS HEAR LECTURE ON CRAFT

Five members of the Newmarket Handcraft group attended weaving lectures at Carlton United church, Toronto, on May 20 and 21. They included Mrs. Fred Hughes, Mrs. George McNelly, Mrs. Arthur Davies, Mrs. Lou Bovair and Mrs. Edward Mitchell.

In all over 100 weavers attended the lectures by Prof. Zelinski who operates the "Z Handcrafts", Fullford, Quebec, and is recognized as a master craftsman in the field of weaving. He gave an interesting lecture on Canadian linen being produced in Quebec. This linen is winning an international reputation in the world of fabrics. Another lecture dealt with overshot weaving in modernistic style.

TULIP TRIPLETS
Miss Lottie Tansley of Newmarket called in last week to tell us of an unusual tulip growing in her garden. This single bulb sends up a stem which, when about six inches above the ground, divides into three separate stems, each bearing a perfect, full-sized flower. All blooms are rose in color.

JR. LADIES' AID
The Junior Ladies' Aid, Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, will hold the closing meeting of the season on Tuesday, June 10, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Sydney Jones. A full attendance is requested.

FETE MAY 31 BRIDE
Miss Joan Boddington, bride of May 31 was guest of honor at several miscellaneous showers prior to her marriage. Those who entertained for her included Mrs. Gordon Rowland, Newmarket, Mrs. Irving Wiley, Mrs. J. Cavnear and Mrs. H. W. Barnas, Toronto.

News Of The W.I.
News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Fine Orchard branch will meet at the home of Mrs. George Mason on the 6th concession on Wednesday afternoon, June 11, at 2:30 o'clock. Delegates will report on Centre York District Annual. A good attendance is hoped for. There is importance business to be considered.

The Gormley branch met at the home of Mrs. James MacDonald on Wednesday, May 28, with 18 ladies present. Vice-president Mrs. Jack Gamble opened the meeting with the president, Mrs. B. Kays, taking over later. Reports on the Guelph conference were given by the president and reports of the district annual by Mrs. Ern. Smith.

The following are the conveners of standing committees for the coming year: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. Ern Smith; home economics and health, Mrs. Allan Wideman; historical research and current events, Mrs. Jack Gamble; citizenship and education, Mrs. Jas. MacDonald; community activities and public relations, Mrs. Russ Ellas.

A sale of plants realized $460. Hostesses were Mrs. Herb. Moorby and Miss Belle Armstrong. They were ably assisted by Mrs. Harvey Biddlecombe.

The Queensville branch held its May meeting on Wednesday, May 28, at the home of Mrs. Myers, Sharon. Mrs. Weddel opened the meeting with the opening ode, followed by the Mary Stewart collect. The roll call, a gardening hint, was responded to by 15 members, and two visitors. Routine business followed.

The Institute picnic will be held on June 14, at 2:30 p.m. at Sharon park. Bring your picnic lunch.

A letter of thanks was read from Jamaica for the parcel sent there.

A T.B. x-ray clinic will be held at Queensville on Sept. 26. Members are asked to please bring pictures of interest for the Tweedsmuir book to the June meeting.

Mrs. Myers favored us with a piano solo. This was followed by her very interesting and instructive talk and demonstration of the Angora rabbit, from the animal to the sweater. She spoke of the care of the rabbit, the combing of its coat, the spinning of the wool and the finished sweater.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Myers.
An Institute bus trip is being planned. The committee in charge is Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. R. Watts, Mrs. C. Wright, Mrs. B. Aylward and Mrs. T. Miller. The meeting closed with the Queen, followed by a delicious lunch.

King City branch will meet at "Jarvacs", the home of Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, on Tuesday evening, June 10, when handicrafts will be the subject with a display and possibly a demonstration. The roll call is "My favorite hobby" and the motto is "Whatever thy hands findeth to do, do it with thy might." Mrs. John Grew, who is vice president of King-crafts, is arranging the program. The committee in charge is Mrs. G. Wells, Mrs. J. Norris, Mrs. T. L. Williams and Mrs. E. Scott.

The schedule of programs for the coming year has been outlined by the executive and conveners. When these are in the hands of members, they will note that monthly current events will be given on "a foreign country". Because of the approaching Triennial Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World, to be held in Toronto in August, 1953, and the fact that over 100 countries would be represented at that time, the local branch emphasizes the study of events of other countries.

Laskay branch will meet in Institute hall on the afternoon of June 10, hosts of Vellore branch, who will supply the program.

The Belhaven branch will meet in the hall Tuesday, June 10. Roll call is a current event of international interest. The Girls' Homemaking club will provide the program. Each member is requested to bring a flower for planting on the hall grounds. Hostesses are Mrs. Erwin Winch and Mrs. Freeman Stephens.

Snowball branch met on Wednesday, May 28, at the home of Mrs. Collins with 25 members and two visitors. President Mrs. Patrick opened the meeting. Mrs. F. W. Browne, the new secretary-treasurer, was in office for the first time. Roll call, name a favorite plant and its care, was well answered.

Motto: "He who plants trees loves others besides himself" was explained by Mrs. Collins. Flower report was given by Miss Joan Casey. Hospital Auxiliary report was given by Mrs. Browne. A committee was chosen to buy and make six pairs of rompers for the community bazaar in Newmarket in November. They are Mrs. Browne, Mrs. Blue, Mrs. Gould.
A charge of 35c per member will be sent as Snowball's share in expenses for A.C.W.W. to be held in Toronto in August of 1953.

Mrs. Reddick gave a portion of her report on Guelph conference. Mrs. H. Morning gave the highlights of the district annual held at King.
Mrs. Bob Cain gave a humorous reading, "A Ladies' Aid Meeting", of 1913, by Nellie McClung. A contest prepared by Mrs. Art Kerr, "Flowers in Songs", was won by Mrs. Cain.
Mrs. C. Copson gave current event. A plant sale realized $7.15 for the flower fund.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reddick on Tuesday, June 24. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, followed by afternoon tea.

Aurora branch held their May meeting on Thursday, May 29, in the United church parlors. The installation of officers was conducted by the district president, Mrs. B. Baycroft.

Mrs. Klees demonstrated making a table centre of flowers, using a vegetable dish. Mrs. Eklund made a brief report on the District Annual, and also conducted a sing-song, accompanied by Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. F. Young.

Mrs. Hamer gave a delightful talk on the Brevity of Beauty, illustrated by poetry.

Plans are underway for redecorating the Aurora Women's Institute room in York County Hospital; also for a bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 15, in the Odd-fellows' hall.

Aurora Women's Institute are also planning to serve meals on the days of the horse show, Saturday, June 14, in Trinity hall, and the conveners are calling a meeting of all helpers and anyone interested in this project for Monday evening, June 9, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. Brooks, Wellington St. E.

After the many items of business were dealt with, the May meeting of Lakeside branch proved to be very interesting and educational as our president, Mrs. A. Pollock, showed colored slides of their recent visit to Florida, revealing the beauty of the flowers, plants and beaches. The pictures of the aquacade shows were remarkable and enjoyed by all.

A box of canned foods was made by our members, to be sent to our link branch W. I. at Chelmsford, England, who are celebrating their 38th anniversary and we thought we would like to add a little personal touch for this occasion.

Roll call was birth date, stone and flower. The hostesses, Mrs. Alder Mrs. Tomlinson and Mrs. Porter, served refreshments during the social half hour.

On June 11, the Temperanceville branch will meet in the United church basement at 2:30 p.m. Schomberg ladies will be our visiting Institute and will supply the program. We are looking forward to a large attendance. The roll call is "Say something nice about the lady on your right." Come early as a "get acquainted" march will begin the meeting.

PRETTY COTTONS ARE the ideal choice for sewing children's clothes. They are attractive, washable and long lasting. During the summer months ahead you'll need many simple dresses and play clothes for the sweet little girl in your family, so why not try making a few—they are so easy to do. Remember too that children's fashions change. Not so quickly as adult styles, of course, but it's worthwhile to study the fashion magazines and pattern catalogues to keep abreast of the changes in children's wear. Your children are interested in the clothes they wear and often develop good taste for clothes at a very early age.

Trim With Machine Stitching
As a trimming idea, machine stitching is often completely discarded, but it can add such distinction to the clothes you make. Machine stitching in contrasting color can be used to outline collars, cuffs, necklines, pockets or pleats. Or, you can sew several rows of stitching down the front of a dress, outlining the buttonholes as you go. Another trimming idea can be done before cutting the waist pieces of your pattern out of your material by sewing several rows of stitching in clusters so that they form stripes across your material. Then you can cut out the waist pieces, being careful to match the stripes, and sew up the waist which gives a stunning effect.

It Grows With Her

The two-year old can wear this pretty plaid jumper when worn with a blouse, or she can wear it separately as a sundress. The shoulder straps are tied into bows and as she grows, the shoulder straps are buttoned rather than tied and she can wear this same delightful dress when she is five. The jumper and little drawstring blouse are both made from instructions on Leaflet No. SS-91, IT GROWS WITH HER. If you would like directions for making this outfit, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and ask for the leaflet by number.

BRIDE HONOREE AT MANY EVENTS

Miss Jean Bennett, Newmarket, was the guest of honor at several parties prior to her marriage on Saturday, May 31, to Robert Scott. A miscellaneous shower was given by Miss Anne VandenBorgh. Mrs. Carl Moore, Toronto, held a pantry and personal shower for her sister.

Parties and presentations were made to Miss Bennett by the office staff of Office Specialty, the Young People's group, Christian Baptist church, the senior choir, St. Columba church, Toronto, and the office staff, Imperial Oil, Toronto.

GUELPH CONFERENCE

W. I. Delegates Meet

...We print the following report of the W.I. Conference at Guelph, despite its lateness, at the request of W.I. members.—Editor

Welcoming over 1000 Ontario Women's Institute officers to a conference at the Ontario Agricultural College recently, President Dr. J. D. MacLachlan of O.A.C. observed that we are in a year of very high costs in farm operations, also in a time of restricted markets.

"At the college, we are very conscious of farmers' problems," said Dr. MacLachlan, "and we are anxious to do anything we can to reduce, even by a few cents, the cost of producing a pound of beef or a gallon of milk or a dozen eggs."

Dr. Margaret McCready, director of Macdonald Institute, thanked the Women's Institutes for their scholarships and their general interest which has had a valuable influence in getting certain extensions made to the Home Economics buildings. Macdonald Institute, Dr. McCready reports, is now the fifth largest of the 14 home economics schools in Canada—surpassed only by the Universities of British Columbia, Manitoba, Toronto and Macdonald College, Quebec.

Mrs. R. G. Purcell opened the conference and expressed her satisfaction on finding that almost all the 1,000 delegates were attending this annual conference for the first time. The women came from points as far west and north as Rainy River and Cochrane with a good representation from over the whole province.

Miss Anna P. Lewis, director of the Ontario Women's Institutes branch and Home Economics Service, introduced a skit and puppet show by staff members outlining some of the new extension services of the department. Miss Lewis stressed the point that the courses and other extension services going from the Women's Institutes branch now are for all the women of the community. It is especially desirable that young mothers take such courses as food for children and clothing for children, and Miss Lewis suggested that the grandmothers in the Institute might give their greatest service by trying to see that the young mothers get to these classes.

The courses and lectures offered include food and nutrition, health education, clothing and textiles, home furnishings, home crafts, health education, psychology for the homemaker, citizenship and cultural activities.

Mrs. Nancy Adams, past president of the Homemakers' Clubs of Saskatchewan and first vice-president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, was a guest at the conference. Mrs. Adams stressed the importance of thinking of ourselves, not provincially, but, as Canadians with pride in our democratic way of life.

President's Address
Mrs. Hugh Summers of Font-hill, president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, said soil and food conservation had been taken for the major objective of the Women's Institutes of Canada at their biennial convention three years ago, because with over 60 percent of the world's population hungry, this conservation seemed the most important problem of the time. Also it was a problem rural women could do something about.

"When there is erosion or soil drifting on your own farm," the speaker reminded the women, "you know there are plots that should be planted to trees, and you use pressure to see that this is done. The same interest should extend to conservation nationally."

Last year this objective was broadened to include a study of the world food situation with related problems. The Women's Institutes under their standing committee on agriculture are studying F.A.O.; the health committee directs the study of the World Health Organization; UNESCO comes under the committee on community activities; and the Declaration of Human Rights under the citizenship committee. As an organization affiliated with the Associated Country Women of the World we should learn about these things," said the national president.

A further responsibility laid on Institute members last year was to work for the upbuilding and strengthening of our Canadian democratic institutions.

Mrs. Nancy Adams, bringing greetings from Saskatchewan, remarked that when the delegation of Canadian women were on their way to the A.C.W.W. conference in Denmark last year they found it hard to think of themselves as Canadians—every woman thought of her own province; but as they began to look beyond their own province they were proud to be Canadians.

Mrs. R. G. Marshall Speaks
"The United Nations and You" was the theme of an address by Mrs. R. G. Marshall, Canadian representative to the sixth General Assembly in Paris. In spite of all the propaganda to the contrary, the United Nations has done a great deal toward creating a feeling of live and let live," Mrs. Marshall said. "We have come through the bickering stage to the reasoning stage, and it has some effect that outside sessions delegates can mingle and become better acquainted."

"And when we know that a woman who represents Iraq has a mother who still wears a veil and has never seen any man but her husband, we must realize that we have come a long way in working out present problems."

Mrs. Marshall gave special attention to the work of the social committee on which most of the women representatives served, a committee dealing especially with social, humanitarian and cultural interests, and working on problems of food for children, housing, refugees, health and human rights. Commenting on the members of this committee which include Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Marshall said, "In my opinion Mrs. Roosevelt has done more for the rights of women and human rights in general than any person living."

The speaker's final word to the Institute women was: "If we are to have peace, the construction of a sufficient military force to stop aggression isn't enough. We women must strengthen our nation through justice and freedom and loyalty so that it will overcome Communism. We will have to break through barriers of history and education but it is our great hope of world peace."

The Place of F.A.O.
"When two-thirds of the population of the world are farmers, and at the same time, two-thirds of the people in the world haven't enough to eat, have nothing to look forward to but hunger and the diseases due to hunger, something is desperately wrong," said Miss Florence Reynolds of F.A.O., Washington.

Miss Reynolds told about the initial calling together of experts in agriculture and nutrition in the year 1943 when it became clear that the world's most dangerous problem was hunger. Representatives from 45 nations, asked if it were possible to save the world from starvation, replied that it could be done "if the knowledge we have stored up in laboratories is taken out to the land and put to work."

Films showed how obsolete methods of farming have been modernized, soils rebuilt, and new practices of farming introduced in a number of underdeveloped countries, all through the program of the Food and Agricultural Organization. Already, the speaker said, F.A.O. has undertaken 170 projects, working with the nation's own government, not only to increase crop yields but to fight annual diseases, introduce extension services, revise land tenure and farm credit, always trying to help people themselves instead of giving them a hand out.

Miss Reynolds spoke with appreciation of the help F.A.O. had had from Canada through the leadership of "Mike" Pearson, Dr. Barton and Dr. Hannam, director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and she complimented the Ontario Women's Institutes on their recent project of sending a tractor to a village in Greece where only women and children are left to till the ground and produce food.

Canadian Handicraft Needed
"We want more leisure but when we get it we don't know what to do with it," said Thor Hansen, art director, the British North American Oil Company. "Every year Canada imports $12,000,000 worth of gift shop goods," Mr. Hansen declared, "while a good number of our own people work only four or five months a year. Tourists can buy Canadian souvenirs but most of them are labelled as made in Czechoslovakia or Japan. There is very little distinctive Canadian craft work in such things as wood work, metal work or weaving."

Mr. Hansen, discussing "creative imagination at work" spoke of man's eternal quest for beauty. Before the machine age people had to work with their hands, and there was an outlet for the imagination in making a horseshoe or an axe handle or doing a piece of weaving. Now, with everything made by machinery we have no need to use our creative imagination so we may lose it. We don't want to go back to making everything by hand but we need an opportunity to do something with our hands—so a great many businessmen find a lot of enjoyment at a work bench set up in the basement of their home.

Speaking of Canadian design, Mr. Hansen suggested to the women that when they are ready to do a landscape in needlepoint instead of an old castle or a Swiss chalet, they do a Canadian landscape. If they cannot make a good original design they might copy a Canadian artist's picture. The speaker showed a number of his own designs using Canadian birds and flowers and trees, even a striking abstract design of grain elevators on the prairie—designs especially adapted to rugs, quilts, tapestries and drapery materials.

On Tuesday, May 20, Leonard Burch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burch, formerly of Newmarket, graduated from the Ontario Veterinary College in Guelph, where he received his degrees as a Veterinary Surgeon, and a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Burch plans to open a small animal hospital in Scarborough, after June 1.

MOUNT ALBERT

Your last invitation to attend Mount Albert's 28th Sports Day next Saturday, June 7, which will be bigger and better than ever with an all day program commencing at 10 a.m. when the rural school field day will begin. All through the day there will be sports and contests, and amusements for everyone, with a grand concert, bingo and dance in the evening, and to end the day, many lucky prizes.

Mount Albert says thank you to Aurora News Page for the nice story of Mount Albert's honesty in last week's Era and says congratulations to Aurora for their victory at the polls last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cummings and children of Barrie spent Sunday with Mrs. Cummings' parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Shapter.

Mrs. H. W. Shields and Mrs. E. Harmon are spending a week with friends at Lake Simcoe.

Mrs. G. S. Harper is visiting relatives at Lindsay for a week. On Sunday, June 15, there will be a special service at the United church at 11 a.m. when members of the three local lodges in town will attend. There will be a men's choir and Rev. Warren of Queensville will be guest speaker.

Next Sunday Rev. Morris of Stroud will take the service at Mount Albert and Hartman while Rev. C. P. Shapter will take anniversary services at Stroud. If you love flowers, you should not have missed seeing Nick Simpson's lovely tulips. The hundreds of blooms make a lovely sight. He has surely made a beauty spot of what was once an unsightly bank along the street and deserves much credit for this.

Dr. and Mrs. Carruthers returned home on Wednesday last from Vancouver where they had a wonderful time. They visited Vancouver Island and saw much of British Columbia outside the city and enjoyed the trip by air.

The Horticultural Society is making a real job of cleaning up the old cemetery on the hill and while it will take time, it will be worth while in the end. Maybe some other communities will follow the example and clean up some more forgotten cemeteries.

Mr. Albert Cemetery grounds committee, whose convener is Mr. G. S. Harper, and his helper, Alf Worville, have just completed a splendid job of making a new gravel driveway. They were fortunate in having free gratis help from Ralph Smith, Austin and Bruce Lunan, Arnot and Geo. Harrison, who came with tractors and trucks and soon finished the work. Messrs. Harper and Worville are very grateful for this help. If you are interested in the cemetery, you could at least give those engaged in this a word of appreciation.

The annual C.G.I.T. banquet was held on Friday evening at the United church. The mothers of the girls and Sunday school teachers were guests, along with several others. After a lovely supper, the president, June Wagg, presided. A toast to the Queen was followed by Marion Oldham who proposed the toast to the church. Rev. C. P. Shapter responded. The Sunday school was proposed by Lorna Thompson and Murray Stokes responded. Ruth Smith proposed the toast to the mothers, to which Mrs. H. Harmon responded.

Piano solos were given by Claudia Carlan and Dianne Davis and a humorous reading by Joyce Silverthorn.

The guest speaker was Miss Iris Daley, secretary of C.G.I.T. work board for Ontario, who explained fully how the girls obtain their chevrons. These are the highest awards obtainable in C.G.I.T. She described the church and home working together as a link for betterment of youth of today.

The girls, to show their appreciation of their leaders, Mrs. Gladys Rolling and Mrs. Elsie Crozier, presented each of them with a lovely cup and saucer which was a lovely thought on the part of the girls.

Sergeant-Major Bruce Davidson, who is stationed at Montreal, spent a short holiday last week with Mrs. Davidson and Gary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Williamson.

MAPLE HILL

The girls of the Homemaking club attended their Achievement Day in Newmarket last Saturday.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. H. Erickson on the birth of their daughter at St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday, June 1.

Several attended the association meeting in Stratfordville Baptist church on Wednesday. The young people attended the youth rally in Newmarket arena last Thursday night when the picture, "Mr. Texas," by Billy Graham, was shown.

Next Sunday night the young people are taking part in the Mount Albert Gospel church. Sunday school next Sunday at 10 a.m. and the church service at 11 a.m.

KESWICK

Mr. and Mrs. Dryden Black and two sons, John and Andrew, and John Curran, and the Misses B. and L. Stewart, all of Toronto, were recent guests of Mrs. J. Magee and Miss Islay Magee.

Mr. Melvin Morton of Toronto spent the weekend with his sister, Mrs. Winston Prosser, and Mr. Prosser.

PINE ORCHARD

Members of the Union church congregation, gathered at the home of the pastor, Rev. E. C. Doggett, and Mrs. Doggett on Friday night, May 30. Mrs. J. Hope presided over a short devotional service. Afterwards Mrs. L. Harper acted as chairman for a program of readings by Mr. Elmer Starr and Mrs. Elsie McClure, and solos by Mr. Horace Mullen, accompanied by Mrs. Doggett. All joined in singing well known hymns. Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Union church service each Sunday at 11 a.m. and Sunday school at 10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sytema of Holland are visiting Mr. Sytema's brother, Mr. Jack Sytema, and Mrs. Sytema.

Congratulations to Miss June Brillinger who was a recent graduate from the Women's College Hospital, Toronto.

ZEPHYR

Don't forget the ball game, Keswick vs. Zephyr, on Tuesday evening, June 10, at Zephyr park.

Come to the sports day at Zephyr park June 28. Good program, ball game, bingo, dancing and lucky prizes.

The Zephyr W. I. visited the Sandford W. I. on Thursday afternoon. Zephyr ladies provided the program.

The Bible Society will hold their annual meeting at the North United Mission church on Monday evening, June 9, at 8.15 p.m. Lantern slides of the Bible Society's wonderful work will be shown. This is an evening of profit and interest to all who are interested in the work of spreading the word of God to all lands and peoples.

Rev. Thornloe occupied the pulpit at Goodwood on Sunday while Rev. Murray Richardson of Uxbridge took charge of the services at Zephyr.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith and Miss Eva Lockie spent Sunday visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. Stuart Graham has returned home after spending some time with his sister in Montreal.

There was a large attendance at Achievement Day held on Saturday for the two homemaking clubs "Cottons may be smart" and "The club girl stands on guard". Miss Margaret McGill of the Queensville Club won a scholarship in the unit "The club girl stands on guard". Miss Betty McGill received her county honours pin for successfully completing six home-making units. Misses Margaret McGill, Betty Goode and Marion Eves received their provincial honours pins for successfully completing 12 units.

Miss Jean Rose of the Union St. club won the Eckhardt trophy and also received her provincial honour pin. We extend congratulations to all of these girls for their good work.

Mrs. Amos Clayton and Miss Phyllis Clayton of Ottawa are visiting Mrs. Jacob Smith.

Softball is well organized, or should we say Queensville is well represented in the various leagues? Of course, we have a team in the senior men's Lake Simcoe league, a team in the junior men's league and a girls' team in the Lake Simcoe ladies' league. Then the Young People's Union have a mixed team in the inter-church league. The public school team is entered in the East Gwillimbury public school league. The big question seems to be: When is the park available for practice?

Mr. Fred Gibson had his cast removed on Monday. It is 3 1/2 months since Mr. Gibson had his unfortunate accident, and we are very pleased to report he has been able to have the cast removed.

We also wish a speedy recovery for Miss Mona Armstrong, the music supervisor at Queensville and Union St. schools. Miss Armstrong is ill with the mumps.

Fire Whistle to be Tried Out

Following the decision of King City village trustees at the monthly meeting May 27, a fire whistle, run off an air compressor at King City Motors, will be tried out. The equipment and installation is estimated to cost $100. The whistle was procured by Trustee Crawford Wells, and is awaiting installation.

Hearty Response

The women who canvassed the district for King Women's Institute in aid of the York County Hospital Auxiliary during the weekend found a generous response from citizens and express appreciation to all who have contributed. As all collections are not yet finalized, a report of the amount collected by Mrs. Ivan Specht, Mrs. T. L. Williams, Mrs. G. Walker, Miss Kay Clark and Mrs. A. E. Jarvis will be made later.

Invest Scoutmaster

"Scouting is building young men for citizenship. It is training boys to give and to take orders, a quality sadly lacking in society today," declared Mr. Frank Worth, commissioner of York Central Scout District, addressing the father and son banquet of 1st King Scouts. He was introduced by District Scoutmaster Cecil Smith to a gathering of 56 at All Saints Anglican church. The chairman was group leader, Mr. J. L. Grew.

The investiture of Mr. George Harvey as scoutmaster was performed by Mr. Smith. Scoutmaster Harvey invested Jim Langdon, Johnny Dew, Bill Patton and Tim Grew as members of the scout troop. The presentation of the "Gilwell Beads" to Mrs. W. F. Hood, 1st King cub master, by the district commissioner was an acknowledgement of her devoted service to her pack. With the leather circlet goes the Canadian Akela Badge, issued by the Canadian General Council of Boy Scouts Association, signed by Vincent Massey, Chief Scout.

Presentation of badges was made by assistant cub master, Jack Hambly, and Mrs. Cecil Smith, district cub master, to Ron Archibald, Garry Galloway, Jim Langdon, Johnny Walker, Bob Asot and Roben Walker.

Rev. D. C. H. Michell, rector of All Saints church, gave the invocation, and Mr. Grew gave the toast to the Queen. The church W.A. served an excellent supper for which they were thanked.

Propose New Site

At a meeting of King Community Association on Monday night, D. M. Findlay, secretary, reported that the government has requested full signature of names attached to the charter for the community hall and also requests information as to what real estate is to be held by the company and where it is to be located. Mr. Findlay said he could have answered the question had there not been new developments regarding the site.

Mr. Barnett, architect, reported to the meeting that he and Mrs. Ivan Specht, K.C.A. chairman, had looked over the piece of land in Memorial Park owned by Lake Marie and King Athletic Assoc. and also the Crossley land on Fisher street adjacent to and east of the park. In his opinion, the park site would be unfavorable under existing circumstances, he said. It is low and wet. The Crossley land is well drained and would be equally well situated with entrance from Fisher street. It would also provide parking space.

This led to a motion approved by the meeting that Mr. C. C. Crossley be contacted and his price be obtained on the lot which would be roughly 500, by 200 feet in size.

Mr. Barnett recommended a one-story building of 65,016 square feet. It would accommodate a gymnasium and auditorium. Off the entrance would be a small committee room and also a library. The kitchen, dressing room and wash rooms would be off the auditorium, which would accommodate 240-300 persons at tables. 340-400 spectators plus 200 spectators in the gallery over the kitchen and washroom. The stage in the auditorium would be 15 by 40 feet with a four-foot stage jutting out in front. The ceiling of the auditorium would be 22 feet high; that of the others, 9 1/2 to 10 feet high.

A resolution was passed that Mr. Phair draft a questionnaire on the subject of a hall for submission to the public. It was also agreed that the sponsoring organizations be asked to contribute up to $10 cash for a working fund for the association.

A further meeting will be held on Monday evening, June 9.

Legion Carnival June 18

Joe McGrath, president of King Legion, and his comrades are deep in plans for the annual carnival and dance Wednesday evening, June 18, in Memorial Park, King City. Equally busy are the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary. The auxiliary also has drawn prizes to offer, a custom-made blonde walnut coffee table, made by Chesley Cumby, and a doll dressed in 20 one dollar bills.

As usual there will be gate prizes, refreshment booths, fish pond for the children and games to suit all tastes.

An open air dance will be conducted to the music of Leo Paxton's orchestra. There will be fun for everyone. Proceeds will be used to finance completion of the new Legion club house in the village.

Feted on 80th Birthday

When Mrs. James Clubine of King City was joined by 35 of her family and friends on Thursday, May 28, she was taken by surprise and greatly delighted in the presentation of a handsome tri-light floor lamp with chrome stand which was presented by Mrs. John Clubine of Newtonbrook. Her daughter Violet read the card listing the names of the donors.

All but two of her nine children were present, Oakley of Meaford and Howard of Milton. Her new granddaughter, Norma Colby, seven months, and her great grandchild, Wayne Russell Clubine, month old child of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clubine of Willowdale, were among the guests. The guest of honor received a gift of money, flowers from the garden of her neighbors and candy. Her son Oakley (Pat) sent her a costume brooch and she received numerous cards. The evening was complete with a large birthday cake with candles which Mrs. Clubine cut for her guests. Happy birthday was sung when Mrs. Clubine expressed her thanks. Other guests were her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Clara Lowery, Miss Florence Clubine and Mrs. Lilian Flintoff, Thornhill, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Harris of Maple.

Mrs. Beatrice Tiffany of Lansing, Michigan, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Finlay, for a couple of weeks and spending time with her namesake, Mrs. Beatrice McKay, wife of Dr. Campbell McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ern. Hollinshead, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Willoughby and Paul recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon French in Etobicoke township.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Archibald have returned from two weeks' holiday spent with their son, Aubrey Archibald, at Shelburne, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Williams at Laurel.

Lieut. Col. Bill Drinkwater won his diploma for a course in administration at Detroit under the auspices of General Motors, when he was one of four Canadians selected to study six weeks there. A dealer from Bradford was also there.

Mr. Harvey Follitt, returned home from Humber Memorial hospital, Weston, on Saturday and is feeling improved. He was greatly surprised when Mr. Gordon Young brought him a large basket of choice fruits, the gift of DeHavillan Aircraft where Mr. Follitt is employed.

Union Jacks Mark Graves

Mrs. Cecil Walker has received word from Canadian-born Capt. Ted James, Austria, that the two Union Jacks sent him by Rev. Mr. Jenkinson have been placed at the graves of her son, F.O. Gordon V. Walker and his air companion, buried in Klagenfurt cemetery (British) in Austria. Mrs. Walker has a photograph which shows the flags "proudly marking that portion of Austria that will always be Canada," according to Capt. James, who intends sending to England for small maple trees to plant near the border of the two graves. Capt. James was born in Winnipeg and has been in Austria for the past five years.

Diamond Jubilee June 11

On Wednesday afternoon, June 11, the 60th anniversary of the founding of St. Andrew's W.M.S., Strange church, will be celebrated. Former members and visiting societies will join to hear the history of the organization presented by Mrs. Watley Finch and to hear Mrs. A. C. Curr, Toronto West Presbyterian, and others of the executive speak. Mrs. Charles Black, the president, for the last ten years, will preside. The diamond jubilee will be held on the same date and day of the month as the society was organized in 1892 by Mrs. W. B. McMurrick as a Women's Foreign Society and the Women's Home Mission Society, now amalgamated as the W.M.S.

Miss Bessie MacMurchy was present at that time and also attended the 40th birthday. She may be a guest this time also. The charter members of the organization are Mrs. Jas. McCallum, Mrs. Kate Porter, Mrs. Wm. Boys, Mrs. James Cameron, and Miss Elizabeth Egan. Mrs. Rhoda Farren has belonged to the society for nearly 35 years.

Mrs. McCallum has missed very few meetings in 60 years. Her mother, Mrs. Ross, and her daughter, Mrs. Wilbert McCallum were members of the society. Voluntary giving has been the chief means of raising money and while the packing of bales was not always an institution it is one of the highlights of the work.

"Faith of Our Fathers", the inaugural hymn of 1892, will be sung and many reminiscences will be mentioned as old friends gather for the occasion, some of them the third generation of families associated with St. Andrew's W.M.S.

Graduates. Miss Gerry McDonald, who graduated last year from University of Toronto with a B.A. in psychology, received her diploma on Monday at Convocation Hall, from the Institute of Child Study. Her mother, Mrs. Wells McDonald, her sister, Mrs. Dave Anderson of Willowdale, and her aunt, Miss Jean McDonald, Toronto, were present at the ceremony. Miss McDonald will be counselor at Camp Winnebago, Muskoka, in July. August will be spent with her mother at King City and starting in September, she will be nursery school director at Sunnyside Child Centre at Kingston.

Tory Twins Honor Winners

James M. Tory and John A. Tory, twin sons of J. S. D. Tory (Toronto and King), have followed the example of their father, an Osgoode Hall gold medalist 25 years ago. They have been named as honor winners on graduation from the University of Toronto School of Law. James M. Tory won the gold medal for highest standing in the final year. John A. Tory led his class in the first year, two years ago. Both sons graduated with honor matriculation at the age of 16.

Rev. J. P. McLeod, retired minister of Canadian Churches of Christ (Disciples), is a guest for the summer of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob McLeod of King City.

Mr. Marvin Hunter and mother, Mrs. Jas. Hunter of Leaskay, with her grandchildren, Betty and Judy Scott, motored to Rydal Bank for a long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Hill (Flora Hunter). They left on Thursday for the 450 mile trip, stopping overnight at North Bay, and returned home on Monday. Rydal Bank is 40 miles from Sault Ste. Marie.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Scott and son Douglas J. Scott for a couple of days last week was Miss Margaret Chambers of Toronto.

Visitors of Mrs. M. H. Bell were her sister, Mrs. R. J. New, and her daughter, Mrs. David Bexton, and her year-old daughter, Jeanelle of Chatham.

Among those attending the Curran-Loveless wedding last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Philip O'Reilly, Newmarket, Mrs. Mary Ellen O'Reilly, Mrs. Tracey Loveless and Mrs. Dudley Loveless, aunts of the bride, of Streetsville, Mr. and Mrs. Teece and Miss Minnie Dudley of Agincourt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Loveless of Ballantrath.

Pte. Bob Curran, brother of the groom, Eddie Curran, and his wife of Toronto were guests. After an absence of three years at the Korean front, Pte. Curran had arrived in Toronto three days before his brother's marriage.

Mr. Charles Lymberry, Toronto, a brother of Mrs. Ursula Shields, was present at the 1st King Scout banquet last week.

Teachers Tour Midhurst

King Township Teachers' Association journeyed to Springwater Park, Midhurst, for a half day last Thursday afternoon, to learn something of reforestation work. The teachers were shown evergreen and hardwood plantings, in different stages of growth and were given seedling cedars and pines to take back to their school sections. Miss Dennis, King City principal, brought 25 pine trees which will be planted on the school grounds. The tour of the grounds, with its variety of plant and wild life, made an interesting study. The ladies provided supper and the men teachers supplied the tea. There were only three of the 26 teachers who did not make the trip, which was considered "convention day", of the year.

Young Wrestlers Acclaimed

A tremendous ovation was accorded King City Wrestling Club by the huge crowd attending the Aurora Lions Carnival in the town park last Friday night. The clean type of wrestling of five young boys, the efficient and speedy conduct of the bouts that held the interest of the crowd, won congratulations and a donation by the Lions. Master of ceremonies was P. E. Perryment, Aurora recreational director; timer was Matt Bell of King City, and referee was Bob McLeod, coach of the wrestling club. Participants wore full length royal blue tights.

The first bout was won by Roddy Bell from Donald Gordon; the second by Roddy Bell from John Hiseborough and the last by Ron Fox from Garry Galloway. As a result of the demonstration, several requests were made to Mr. Perryment to start a wrestling club in Aurora. After a shower and change of clothes, the King City lads enjoyed the hospitality of their hosts.

Tweedsmuir Book Display

When Mrs. E. Reddick displayed the Tweedsmuir History Book from Snowball W.I. to Centre York convention recently, it was an inspiration to nine other Inlandites whose books are not as far advanced. The basis for compiling historical data of localities can be obtained from W. I. headquarters but all material used must be authentic with reference to sources of information.

Tea for Mrs. Jim Snelgrove

A cup-and-saucer tea was held in honor of Mrs. Jim Snelgrove at the home of Mrs. W. F. Hood last week, given by Mrs. Hood and Mrs. Dave Glass. Sixteen guests brought beautiful English bone china cups and saucers, parting gifts to Mrs. Snelgrove who is moving to Springfield, Mass., in June where her husband, Dr. Snelgrove, has a high position in chemical research work with the Shawinigan Corporation.

King City junior wrestlers will give their exhibition of work on Friday night, May 30, when the postponed fireworks carnival will be held in Aurora town park. The boys will perform at 8.30.

RECEIVES P.D. DEGREE

James A. Snelgrove has been awarded his Doctor of Philosophy degree in research in physical chemistry and will receive his diploma at a graduation ceremony at the University of Toronto on Friday, June 6. Dr. Snelgrove has received two scholarships from the National Research Council during the last two years.

Dr. Snelgrove has accepted a position with the Shawinigan Resins Corporation at Springfield, Mass., where he will be in charge of a research group. During the latter part of June he and his wife, the former Jean Kelley of King, and their two children, Ann Elizabeth, aged 4, and Ruth Marion, 2 1/2 years old, will move to that city.

Born and raised in Toronto, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Snelgrove, the young man entered Trinity College, U. of T., in 1940 and was overseas in the R.A.F. with the commission of flying officer from the end of 1942 until the beginning of 1946.

Here is only a partial listing of the wonderful array of extra features offered to you by Chevrolet, the lowest-priced fine car. Every single one of them means extra pleasure, extra safety, or extra economy for you. Yet again in 1952 Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field! Come in and see for yourself!

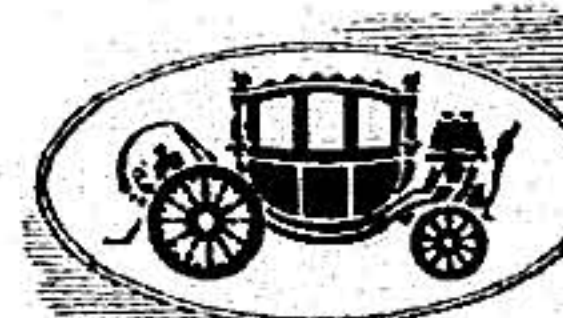

The LEADER leads again...

The Only Fine Cars... PRICED SO LOW!

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

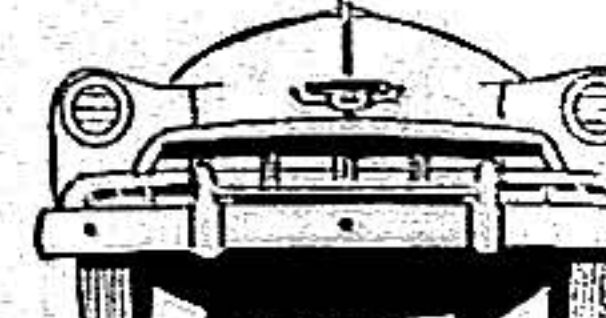

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Body by Fisher
Fisher Body sets the standard for styling and craftsmanship. And Fisher Unisteel construction guards you with solid all-steel strength.

Unitized Knee-Action Ride
Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now even softer, smoother. New shock absorber action smooths bumps and jolts more quickly.

Widest Tread
Chevrolet measures a full 58 1/4 inches between centres of rear wheels — providing a broader base to give more all-round stability.

4-Way Engine Lubrication
Chevrolet's exclusive engine lubricating system supplies exactly the right kind and amount of lubrication to each moving part.

Cast Iron Alloy Pistons
Pistons are formed from the same material as the cylinder block — expand and contract at the same rate. This reduces piston wear and oil consumption.

Gorgeous New Exterior Colors
Rich and beautiful color combinations... the most wonderful array in the entire low-price field. In De Luxe series, interiors and exteriors are distinctively color-matched.

Powerglide Automatic Transmission
It's simpler with fewer parts to wear or require adjustment. It's smoother because oil does it all without complicated intermediate gears. Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

Powerful Valve-in-Head Engine
Teamed with Powerglide is the powerful Valve-in-Head engine, an outstanding performer in any field! This engine's Hydraulic-Flushed valve lifters are another important Chevrolet exclusive.

GM Tinted Glass with the Shaded Windshield
Chevrolet offers tinted glass with exclusive, shaded windshield-tinting. Tinted glass all 'round helps you drive more safely and comfortably. (Optional at extra cost.)
